Rockwell Show Recalls Favorite Songs of Past

Rocky Rockwell, the trumpet stylist, and his combo are currently offering Appleton night owls a brass trip down memory lane at the Pendulum. Among the impressions you can hear are Harry James, Satchmo, Herb Alpert, Clyde Mc Gay and something that resembles Moe — of Three Stooges fame — trying to coordinate an ensemble.

Rockwell, considering his past association with Lawrence Welk for some 15 years, strikes one as a non-Welk type, neither glazed with bubbles nor afflicted with upbeat reflexes. He plays trumpet with the intensity of a kid blowing bubble gum and the volume of an ambulance.

Welk Gets Knock
His line of chatter includes a well-stocked quiver of barbs ("Thank you, Mr. Welk, wherever you are" or "This town in Nebraska we played in last month was so small I couldn't find it ... I tried to phone em but the area code was busy.")

He plays "You Made Me Love You" in Jane C. style, "Java" and "Hello Dolls" in suitable pose and a number of Tijuana Brass favorites.

I PAINTED THIS ROOM PINK, BUT WHEN IT DRIED, I SAW RED!

OH! JANE! I'M SO MAD I COULD SCREAM!

WHAT'S THE TROUBLE, SIS?

I SPENT ALL MORNING PAINTING THIS ROOM—AND YOU CAN STILL SEE THOSE OLD WALLPAPER FLOWERS!

OH, MY! BUT WON'T THE SECOND COAT MAKE EVERYTHING OKAY?

THE SALESMAN AT THE DISCOUNT CENTER SAID I WOULDN'T NEED TO PUT ON A SECOND COAT. HE SAID THIS WAS A ONE-COAT PAINT!

ISN'T THERE ANY WAY TO TELL PAINT THAT'S REALLY GOOD?

I'D CALL IT TURN-COAT MYSELF!

SIS, I'M ON MY WAY TO A LECTURE BY MARGARET BRIGHTON, THE COLOR PSYCHOLOGIST. I'LL BET SHE KNOWS A LOT ABOUT PAINT. WHY DON'T YOU COME ALONG?

WE-E-LL—OKAY. WAIT TILL I GET CLEANED UP.

SHE JUST FOUND OUT THE HARD WAY THAT A BARGAIN ISN'T ALWAYS A BARGAIN!

YOU'RE SO RIGHT. EVEN MICHAELANGELO COULDN'T DO A DECENT JOB WITH SOME OF TODAY'S PAINTS!

WHAT PAINT CAN I TRUST?

THE PAINT I RECOMMEND FOR INTERIOR WALLS IS BPS VINA-BOND®. IT'S A MUCH BETTER BUY THAN CHEAP PAINTS—AND HERE'S WHY:

THE COSTLIEST PART OF ANY PAINT JOB IS THE TIME YOU PUT INTO IT. AND POOR PAINT TAKES JUST AS MUCH TIME TO PUT ON AS BPS VINA-BOND®.

LET'S COMPARE THESE TWO PHOTOGRAPHS.

"SEE HOW THE CHEAP PAINT FAILED TO HIDE THE OLD WALLPAPER PATTERN..."

"BUT BPS VINA-BOND® COVERED THE SAME PATTERN WITH JUST ONE COAT!"

CAN BPS VINA-BOND® BE "SPOT WASHED?"

CERTAINLY—LET ME SHOW YOU...

"SEE HOW THIS CHEAP PAINT WORE THROUGH AFTER JUST A FEW STROKES?..."

"BUT BPS VINA-BOND® STILL LOOKS BEAUTIFUL EVEN WHEN IT'S WASHED AGAIN AND AGAIN WITH JUST SOAP AND WATER..."

AND BPS VINA-BOND® IS MADE A SPECIAL WAY SO IT WON'T DRIP... WON'T RUN...AND WON'T SHOW LAP MARKS.

YES, BUT ONLY A THIXOTROPIC PAINT LIKE BPS VINA-BOND® CAN KEEP THOSE PROMISES!

LET'S MAKE THE FAMOUS PADDLE TEST.

"WHEN WE STICK THIS STIRRING PADDLE DOWN IN THE CENTER OF A CAN OF CHEAP PAINT, SEE HOW IT FALLS RIGHT OVER?"

"BUT WITH BPS VINA-BOND®, SEE HOW THE PADDLE WILL STAND STRAIGHT UP FOR SEVERAL SECONDS!"

COME ON, SIS, LET'S GO GET YOU SOME BPS VINA-BOND® RIGHT NOW.

REMEMBER BPS MEANS BEST PAINT SOLD! BPS GUARANTEES IT—RIGHT ON THE LABEL!

NOW THAT'S WHAT I CALL A GOOD PAINT JOB!

YES! BPS VINA-BOND® SURE HELPED ME GET OVER MY "PINK PAINT BLUES!"

"Your time is the biggest cost in painting! Why waste it on any but the Best Paint Sold?"

By Margaret Brighton
Color Psychology Consultant

Say good-bye to yesterday's back-breaking, time-wasting painting problems. Isn't your time far too valuable to waste it on cheap paint, just to save a few pennies? I have important reasons for recommending Patterson-Sargent's Vina-Bond Vinyl Latex Wall Finish to you. Here they are:

- BPS Vina-Bond covers more square feet per gallon than a cheap paint.

- BPS Vina-Bond holds its color longer than a cheap paint.
- BPS Vina-Bond won't drip! Won't run! Won't show lap marks!
- BPS Vina-Bond dries in 30 minutes. Leaves no unpleasant odor!
- BPS Vina-Bond is guaranteed to give satisfactory results—or your money back. Every label carries the manufacturer's guarantee right on the can.

Your friendly BPS dealer not only carries Vina-Bond and its matching enamel, Satin-Lux, for woodwork but he is prepared to help you with your decorating and painting problems. If you take the coupon in this ad to him he will be pleased to give you a free copy of the colorful Better Homes & Gardens booklet, "A Houseful of Decorating Ideas". Don't wait, this offer is limited—so hurry!

Collect Nature's Flowers, Dry, Press, Mount in Album

BY CAPPY DICK
Pressed and dried flowers make an interesting collection especially interesting. When you go hunting for wild flower specimens, take some waxed paper and an old, discarded book with you. As you pick the flowers, pay attention to the natural arrangement of the blossoms, stems and leaves. Place each specimen in the book to be pressed flat as it dries.

After a day or two, remove the specimens you have collected, together with the foliage, and slip each into a plastic sandwich envelope of the type that can be sealed shut, protecting it from air and handling. The specimen will be neatly displayed as in figure 2.

With transparent tape, fasten each plastic envelope to a sheet of black construction paper. Place the specimens in a folder made of cardboard with a suitable title printed on the front as in figure 3.

Senate Rips Groppi, Attempts To Ban Him From Statehouse

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Bitter debate aged through the state senate Thursday over the alleged antics of followers of Father James Groppi, the militant Milwaukee priest, and of student demonstrators who battled Madison police over the past week-end.

The debate was followed by an attempt by a Milwaukee lawmaker to bar Groppi and his followers from the capitol and surrounding grounds in the future.

"His visits here have been nothing more than disorder and rioting," claimed Sen. Willard Scheule, D-Milwaukee, after offering the joint resolution, on which no action was taken.

Visit Set Off Debate
The debate was triggered by the visit of Groppi and other clergymen, and a contingent of Milwaukee Inner Core residents to the statehouse Wednesday to lead for stronger state open housing legislation.

"The open housing they derive is in a cage in a prison. They are not members of the good Negro community of my street," shouted a red-faced man. Wayne Whitlow, D-Milwaukee, reporting that his secretary's purse had been stolen by members of the black group sitting the capitol.

He said four young black persons entered his office and looted the purse.

"If Father Groppi wants people to come along with him, he," said Sen. Clifford Krueger, R-Merrill. "But he ought to be careful of them if they are responsible," he added, telling lawmakers that the camera of a young student from his district visiting the capitol had been stolen by a young black girl.

With the students from the Plum Lake School in Vilas County sitting in the balcony, Krueger pleaded for Groppi and fellow clergymen to show responsibility for such actions.

He said that civil rights work in the Inner Core is part of the job of a clergyman, but that it is "wrong" that disorders occur every time they come to the capitol.

Two weeks ago Groppi led a delegation from the inner city to protest proposed budget cuts in programs affecting them planned by the legislature's joint finance committee.

After the visit, a blind woman who runs a ground floor concession stand in the statehouse reported that black youths had stolen about $40 in cash and merchandise from her.

Later she added that the losses were an example of what she has to contend with constantly with extensive public touring of the building throughout the year.

Camera Unimportant
"The camera is not the important thing," said Krueger. "I have seen it that it has been replaced. It is the principle and the point that Father Groppi and his crowd and the Protestant clergymen too ... well, there must be good people in the core that could accompany Father Groppi to these hearings."

"Why does he have to bring the hoodlums so that people aren't safe in the capitol?"

"If Father Groppi intends to use this as shock treatment on white people, he has succeeded," said Krueger.

"He has succeeded to the point that he may have made 20-ble," said Soik.

Whitlow blamed the press and politicians for whipping up emotions of Inner Core residents with promises which he said he doubted could be fulfilled.

He said that "responsible" community leaders should go to religious leaders to convince them to halt the actions of clergymen such as Groppi.

Better security precautions must be made for the statehouse, he said.

"The next time these monkeys come up here and tell us that they are going to burn down the capitol we should be prepared," shouted Whitlow.

"We should be prepared even if we got to have all of the Madison police and even if we got to have all of the Dane County sheriffs or the National Guard."

"You just can't give in to these people," he said.

Sen. Gordon Roseleip, R-Darlington, repeated his contention that he will not refer to Groppi as "Father."

"Ministers and priests don't become communists but communists become ministers and priests," Roseleip contended.

"It is up to us to clean up this state, to get it back on the track, to get it where it should be, for God and country," said Roseleip.

Sen. Nile Soik, R-Whitefish Bay, linked the student demonstrations with the Inner Core problems, saying that "we cannot tolerate violence."

Average of $2 More Weekly

State Universities to Increase Room, Meal Charges Next Year

Special to The Post-Crescent
MADISON — Students living in university operated halls at the nine Wisconsin State Universities will pay $22 to $24 a week for room and meals during the 1969-70 academic year, the WSU system office reports.

Increases over the present year will average about $2 a week, said Eugene R. McPhee, WSU system executive director.

For the 36-week academic year starting next September, the university charges for room and meals will range from $790 to $864. Differences in charges at the universities are due to differences in construction and financing charges and in costs of operating food service facilities, McPhee said.

Paid by Students
Residence halls are financed from student payments. No state tax funds are involved in construction or operation of residence halls, dining halls or student centers, McPhee explained.

Room and meal charge increases next year will range from $1 to $3.50 a week at the various universities. Reasons for the increase in room charges include increased financing costs, increased salaries of employees paid from residence hall budgets and the need for greater reserves because fewer students are required to live in university halls.

Increases in charges for meals are the result of higher food costs, increased wages and more liberal policies in providing "seconds" for students. The meal charges listed are for 19 students to 21 meals a week. Most universities also have meal plans for fewer meals per week for students who go home on weekends.

Attorney Appointed for Man on Morals Count Against Teen-Age Boy

An attorney was named at county expense Wednesday for Ralph F. Schumaker, 36, 322 N. Oneida St., who is charged with taking indecent liberties with a 16-year-old boy.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer found Schumaker indigent and named attorney William Schuh. He then continued the case to this afternoon and set bond at $1,000.

Appleton police took Schumaker into custody Tuesday evening after the Appleton boy came to the police station and reported that a man had made indecent advances toward him in the restroom at the Appleton Public Library.

Woman Loses Damage Suit In Auto Crash

A Kaukauna woman who brought a damage suit against a Bear Creek motorist over a three-year-old traffic accident. Wednesday was found totally negligent in causing the accident.

Mrs. Clarence Zuehl, 1701 Oakridge Drive, sought $7,500 damages from Lester Monty and his insurance carrier, Heritage Mutual Insurance Co. She was awarded nothing.

Mrs. Zuehl was hospitalized for one week after her car and one driven by Monty collided Sept. 13, 1965, at U.S. 41 and State 125, two miles west of Appleton.

Mrs. Zuehl was westbound on 125 and Monty was traveling north on 41.

Open House Scheduled At Appleton's Four Fire Stations May 10

In observance of Fire Service Recognition Day May 10, there will be an "open house" at Appleton's four fire stations.

The day of recognition was proclaimed by Edward A. Beadle, president of the International Association of Fire Chiefs. Mayor George Buckley recently proclaimed the same day locally.

Appleton fire fighters said today they will serve as guides for tours of the four stations between 9 a.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday. The ladies' auxiliary of the local fire fighters association will serve refreshments.

Entire families are encouraged to take the opportunity Saturday to view the stations and fire fighting equipment.

Smith, Lynch, MacArthur Off Resource Board

Roger Minahan One Of Three New Members Named

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Three of the most prominent members of the State Natural Resources Board were replaced Friday by Gov. Warren P. Knowles, as the chief executive made a battery of appointments to the governing units of the departments of natural resources and agriculture.

Resource board members replaced were Russell G. Lynch, Wauwatosa, board chairman; Charles F. Smith Sr., Wausau, and Arthur MacArthur, Janesville.

Appointed to replace them on the seven-member board were Roger C. Minahan, Milwaukee, a director of Post Corporation of Appleton; Richard A. Stearn, Sturgeon Bay, and Stanton P. Helland, Wisconsin Dells, a business associate of Lt. Gov. Jack B. Olson.

Effective Immediately
All three appointments are effective immediately, and will run until 1975.

Knowles also replaced two Democratic members of the state agriculture unit, including James Nolan, Marion and Russell McCarthy, Cottage Grove. The governor renamed Arden Grudem of Eau Claire to the agriculture board, and appointed Mayor Henry Drees of Peshtigo and Kieran Powers of Lyndon Station to replace Nolan and McCarthy.

Smith has asked that he not be re-named to the resources unit, and Lynch, at age 69, is beyond the informal Knowles cutoff date of 60 for such appointments.

Stearn was named to replace Smith; Helland replaces MacArthur; and Minahan succeeds Lynch as a member of the resources unit. That board was formed two years ago through an embittered battle by state conservationists over the proposed reorganization of state government through the Kellett bill.

Heads Firm
Stearn, 51, is president of the engineering firm of R.A. Stearn, Inc., and a graduate of the Webb Institute of Naval Architecture. Married and the father of four children, he also serves on the engineering education advisory committee of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay.

Helland is 43 and the manager of the Riverview Boat Line and Stanton and Helland Properties in Wisconsin Dells. A University of Notre Dame graduate, he is chairman of the Columbia County Board.

Minahan, 59, is a partner in the law firm of Whyte, Hirschboeck, Minahan, Harding and Hardland, and a University of Wisconsin graduate.

Drees is owner and manager of the Livestock Auction Market in Peshtigo, the Pound Cedar Lumber Yards, and the Peshtigo Motel, and president of the Wisconsin Livestock Dealers Association.

Pitchers' Records Drop

Astros Rally to Hand Philadelphia 9 to 7 Setback in Slugfest

The pitching mound isn't the only thing lower for most of the hurlers who helped make 1968 the Year of the Zero in major league baseball. Their records also show quite a drop.

Of the top 10 pitchers in each league a year ago, only Juan Marichal of San Francisco and Oakland's Jim Nash show an appreciably better earned run average and some ERAs are astronomical.

Houston and Philadelphia wreaked more hitting havoc Thursday, with the Astros winning a 9-7 come-from-behind slugfest in the only scheduled game in either league.

They rallied for three runs in the eighth inning and three more in the ninth, wiping out a 7-3 Philadelphia lead and ruining a banner performance by Rich Allen, who wallowed a towering grand slam homer and singled in another run.

Leadoff Homer

Houston fell behind despite a 3-0 lead on Joe Morgan's leadoff homer and a two-run shot by Jim Wynn in the third. But they closed in when Jesus Alou cracked a two-run double and Gary Geiger hit a sacrifice fly in the eighth.

Norm Miller began the decisive ninth against reliever Gary Wagner with a single and walks to Curt Blefary and Doug Rader. Alou's infield single tied the score and John Edwards drilled a single to right to win it.

"It's taken us a while to get in the groove, to adjust to playing with one another and to get a little confidence," said manager Harry Walker, whose Astros have won six of their last seven games. "We started off bad and then we started to press."

"I think we'll be all right. We've got three hard throwers in Larry Dierker, Don Wilson and Tom Griffin. If they continue to improve we can be tough."

Other 22 Teams

The pitchers on the other 22 teams had Thursday off to contemplate their woes. For example, Cleveland's Luis Tiant, a 21-game winner and the American League's ERA leader at 1.60, shows an 0-6 record and 8.29 ERA. Teammate Sam McDowell's ERA is up from 1.81 to 3.23 and it took two consecutive shutouts to get it that respectable.

Baltimore's Dave McNally has a 5-0 mark but his ERA is up from 1.95 to 2.70. Denny McLain, Detroit's 31-game winner, is at 4-3 and 2.82, compared to 1.95 in 1968.

Tommy John of the Chicago White Sox is up from 1.98 to 2.66. Stan Bahsen of the New York Yankees—0-6 like Tiant—went from 2.06 to 5.50. Joe Horlen of the White Sox went from 2.37 to 3.60 and New York's Mel Stottlemyre and Oakland's John "Blue Moon" Odum from 2.45 to 2.64 and 2.84, respectively.

Has 3-1 Record

Nash, however, is down from 2.28 to 1.86 with a 3-1 record. Over in the National League, Bob Gibson of St. Louis has a superb 1.94 ERA, but it was a record into tonight's Midwest League game. Cedar Rapids (6-5) will make its first Goodland Field appearance of the season. Last night, Cedar Rapids split a doubleheader with Wisconsin Rapids. The Cardinals took the opener, 6-3, while the Twins won the nightcap, 2-1. The teams, who had no game to make up, decided to play a doubleheader to have one game "banked" in case of a future rainout.

All other ML games were postponed last night.

The line scores:

First Game
Wis Rapids 000 200 1-3 7.0
Cedar Rapids 010 023 x5.9 1

Simon and Wilbern; Estrella and Snyder. W-Estrella. L-Simon.

Cichon and Perkins; Price, Hotzman 7 and Hill. W-Cichon. L-Price.

Don Drysdale of Los Angeles, author of a record 58 consecutive scoreless innings last year, has soared from 2.15 to 5.85 and has a sore arm, as well. Tom Seaver of the Mets and Ray Washburn of the Cardinals are virtually the same, 2.20 to 2.26 for Seaver and 2.26 to 2.50 for Washburn. But Gaylord Perry of the Giants has jumped from 2.44 to 3.12.

Marichal, who won 26 games last year, has a 4-2 record and his ERA is 1.68, compared to last season's 2.43.

The people doing the hitting also have some strange names. The leading batters include

UW's Brennan Shows Confidence and Drive

By RON WITT

Post-Crescent Staff Writer
HORTONVILLE — Bob Brennan will have a tough act to follow when he takes over for retiring University of Wisconsin track coach out Walter this July.

Walter, after nine years at the school, leaves behind the best record of any UW sport in recent history.

But the articulate Wisconsin graduate, who has been Walter's assistant since 1964, displays a great deal of confidence and drive that may well be responsible for keeping UW a nationally-prominent track power in the future.

That's the type of impression Brennan left to a crowd of 272 persons at the 13th annual Hortonville High School Athletic Banquet at the Silver Dome Thursday night, where he was the main speaker on a 2-hour program. The affair honored letter winners in various sports.

"I suppose the toughest part of becoming coach is to keep on winning," Brennan said in an interview. But referring back to what he told his audience earlier, he emphasized: "We're excited about things. We want to build and to win."

Wisconsin's 1968-9 track team, already Big 10 indoor champion, will be shooting for the outdoor title in a couple of weeks. The squad members are looking forward to winning that crown as a final going-away present for Walter, who is quitting after 39 years as an active coach.

"We'll be trying a little extra hard to win it for Rut," Brennan declared, "and we'd also like to give Elroy Hirsch his first championship." He has lavished praise for both men.

"Rut Walter is one of the greatest gentlemen ever to walk the face of the earth," Brennan said. "If I know anything, if we've had any success. I attribute it to Rut. Nine years ago we didn't score a point in either the Big 10 indoor or outdoor meets, but two years later we had a championship under Rut."

Brennan likes to talk about the time he discussed his future with Hirsch when the ex-Ram great first came back to take over the athletic director post.

"I walked in to see him with the idea, now you sell me on this job," Brennan explained. "And he completely sold me. There was no question. I lost my cool so completely I forgot to ask my salary." He added later: "If you don't believe in a guy like that, you won't believe in anybody."

This appearance was Brennan's 27th around the state in the last two months. "Elroy wants us to get the exposure," he revealed. "He thinks we have to get the machinery rolling."

As might be expected, Brennan defends his school in relation to disorders on the Madison

Detroye, of Fond du Lac, Compiles 892 Pin Total

Takes Over Third Place In Tourney

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A member of the Wisconsin State Highway Patrol created the biggest excitement in the seventh annual Bowl-O-Rama sponsored by the Post-Crescent at the 41 Bowl Thursday night, and it wasn't because he was tearing up old traffic tickets.

Ken Detroye, Fond du Lac, slammed an 892 total in his four games to climb into third place in the men's Class A division.

Detroye was three pins behind current runnerup, Joe Gerrits, of Appleton and 44 behind the Class A leader, Dick Piasecki, Two Rivers.

Leaders in all four classes of the Bowl-O-Rama held their spots Thursday. In fact, there were no changes in the top 15 spots in any other division than Class A for men.

Rolls 243 Game
Detroye was consistent, hitting 196 and 184 in his first two games. Then he proceeded to crack a 243 in his third line and finished with a 189. This gave him 812 scratch and he carried 30 pins handicap.

The first three games for Detroye counted to a 623 series and it was the fourth time in the 1968-69 season that he went over the 600 mark. His best game during the year was a 275 on the first night of league bowling.

In addition to taking over third place, Detroye won the men's squad prize on the 7 p.m. shift with his high game. The 243 scratch and 20 handicap gave him a 263 count.

For the women, Inez Liebhauer, Menasha, took the award at 7 p.m. with her 207 scratch game and 48 handicap for 255.

High For Women
For the 9 p.m. squad, Bonnie Schoenick, Menasha, had a 194 scratch and 40 handicap for a 234 game. Leading the men was Dennis Behm, Winnebago, with a 246 game and 22 handicap for a 268. Behm had nine strikes in the game including a string of four in a row and he finished by striking out.

Behm finished with an 885 series for the night to tie for 18th place in Class A. He had 777 scratch and 88 handicap. Another Class A kiegler, Bill Hanson, Appleton, blasted 856, including 772 scratch and 84 handicap to go into 28th place.

Top performer in men's Class A was Lawrence.

Twins-Giants Tilt Rained Out

Cancellation First For Event Sponsored By the Brewers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rain washed out an exhibition baseball game here Thursday between the San Francisco Giants and the Minnesota Twins.

The cancellation, first ever for an event sponsored by Milwaukee Brewers Inc., was called an hour and 15 minutes after the game was to start.

About 3,500 fans waited in the stands. Brewers said it had an advance sale of 7,000.

Although extreme cold, a tornado threat and rain have held down crowds before, this was the first time in the last two seasons that a game was called because of weather.

Ironically, the steady downpour at Milwaukee County Stadium apparently was a freak. The Weather Bureau said at the time that it was not raining anywhere in the state except certain Milwaukee areas.

Even the Weather Bureau radar failed to pick up the rain in the stadium vicinity.

Pete May Pick 3 Switching Teams

Need Realignment Solution By Saturday, Says Rozelle

By MIKE RATHET

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle has moved to within 24 hours of running with the realignment ball himself and personally selecting the three National Football League teams that have to switch to the American Football League.

Rozelle made that revelation himself at the end of an 11-hour day of talks with both NFL and AFL club owners Thursday in yet another session of the marathon pro football meetings that now have lasted almost two months and been held on both coasts of the United States.

Admitting that "I don't have a firm commitment from any club" to move, Rozelle said he felt a solution had to be reached by Saturday at the latest and if the NFL owners could not select the three teams "I am prepared to pick them."

Since Mid-March

The owners have been meeting on a solution to the realignment problem since mid-March when they originally sat down in Palm Springs, Calif. They held a second session last week and then reconvened again Wednesday.

The only hard fact that has evolved in the almost two months of talks is that realignment almost certainly will be accomplished by shifting three teams from the 16-team NFL into the 10-team AFL to form two conferences of 13 teams each.

The suggestion for Rozelle, stepping in and tapping three teams to join the AFL for the 1970 season arose in an NFL caucus and the commissioner said he was ready to tackle the棘手 problem plaguing the owners.

Asked if he had the power to step in, Rozelle replied:

"They (the owners) may give it to me or I may insist upon having it. In that case I think I can get it."

Rozelle said he had spent some time considering his three candidates for a shift but declined to specify any of his choices or speak in other than generalities about what factors would be taken into consideration.

The teams most prominently mentioned in speculation have been Baltimore, Atlanta, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Minnesota, and St. Louis, but Rozelle said only three teams actually will not be considered for a move—New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

It appeared that if the NFL owners were unable to reach accord by some time in the afternoon, Rozelle then would either ask for or be handed the ball.

"One way or another," Rozelle insisted, "we'll have a decision by Saturday."

aker Star Honored Jerry West Predicts Lew Alcindor Will be NBA's Most Valuable

By MURRAY ROSE
 NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor can't miss making it big in the National Basketball Association, says Jerry West.
 "I think he's going to be the most valuable player in the league," said the superstar of the Los Angeles Lakers today.
 Here to receive a car as the standing player of the recent A final playoff series between the Lakers and the winning Boston Celtics, West first told whom he would pick first he had to select a pro team to follow.
 "Lew Alcindor," he replied without hesitation.
 "I've watched him play and he can do everything. He has Russell's agility. He is quick, has great hands, can shoot and is an unselfish player."
 One Weakness
 His one weakness is rebounding. For a guy his size he can't do enough. But with repetition that will improve. Of course, in college he was getting double and triple teams and had guys hanging all over him."
 The 22-year-old Alcindor, averaging 7-foot-11½, 235-pounder at UCLA, recently signed a five-year contract calling for an estimated $1.4 million with the NBA's Milwaukee Bucks.
 Thursday night's game against Houston with what the team doctor called "acute anxiety."
 Hisle told Manager Bob Skinner in the dugout after the fourth inning: "I don't feel as if I can play anymore."
 Skinner sent him to the clubhouse where the doctor examined the outfielder, then made his report to the manager.
 "I don't know what acute anxiety means," said Skinner. "I'll have to talk further with the doctor."
 Hisle was off to a slow start, batting under .200 most of the season. Lately, however, he has started to hit and show the speed that made him a standout minor leaguer at San Diego last year. He is hitting .202 with one home run and four RBIs.
 Hisle had struck out seven straight times until picking up a single in the third inning of Thursday night's game.

Accute Anxiety Is Bothering Phil's Rookie

campus. "We're not the only school that is having them," he said. "Of course, that's no excuse. But it's just something we're going through all over the country. You're closer to the University so you hear more about it."

He had a message for the athletes and parents: "You can't find a hippie who was ever an outstanding athlete. Our best thing going is outstanding young people like you out there."

Asked if the student unrest made recruiting difficult, Brennan replied: "I don't think it's a hard school to sell. It's one of the top five schools academically."

The people are track oriented. We draw better indoors than any other school in the United States. And I think there is only one other campus as attractive, and that's in Boulder, Colo., at the University of Colorado."

Brennan prefers, as does Hirsch, to center recruiting in the state. "If we're going to be a winner," he says, "the nucleus of the team will have to be Wisconsin boys. But we also have to supplement with boys from around the country."

Bill Morrissey served as master of ceremonies of the banquet, which was co-sponsored by the Greenville Civic Club and the Hortonville Commercial Club. Hubert Berg and James O'Hern, presidents of the two organizations, were also on hand.

Coaches presenting awards included Bob Newhouse (track and football), John Amburgy (cross country), Gerald Laemrich (basketball), Tom Nadeu (wrestling) and Richard Fraaza (baseball).

Bill Hardwick Near All-Star Pin Crown

MIAMI (AP) — Billy Hardwick of Louisville built his lead to 618 pins Thursday night to virtually wrap up the men's title in the 28th annual $65,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament.
 The 27-year-old native Alabamian dominated the 12-man field with 16 games remaining to be played before the tournament ends Friday night.
 Hardwick averaged 225 pins for the first 32 games, giving him a total of 8,403 pins—including a 1,200 pin bonus for winning 24 games.

His nearest competitors were Allie Clarke of Akron, Ohio, with 7,785 pins and Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., with 7,702.
 Defending champion Doty Fothergill of North Attleboro, Mass., finished the day with 5,446 pins to regain the lead in the women's division. She held a 21-pin lead over Betty Kucynski of Chicago.

Two Rivers '9' Cops, 1-0, Over Clintonville

Error, Plantico's Triple Account for
 Lone Run of Game

TWO RIVERS — An error followed by a triple by Ruben Plantico in the fifth inning resulted in the only run of the game as Two Rivers High School's baseball team edged Clintonville, 1-0, in a Mid-Eastern Conference game played here Thursday.
 The win gives the Purple

Raiders a 1-1 M-E record and a 3-3 mark overall. Clintonville is now 1-2 in the conference.

Terry Olson and Tom Goedgen hooked up in a pitchers duel that saw Olson strike out four and issue no walks for the Truckers while Goedgen had eight strikeouts and walked one for the Raiders.

Biggest threat for the Truckers came in the top of the fifth when the first two batters singled. An infield grounder and a strikeout accounted for two outs, but a walk loaded the bases. The potential rally was snuffed out on a grounder to the first baseman.

Ron McGovern had a double and single for two of the four Two Rivers' hits.
 Craig LeBeau had a double for Clintonville.

The Suns, an expansion team leading off the third round, plucked Floyd, a forward, by Los Angeles Stars of the American Basketball Association and the Wednesday as the NBA completed its college player draft. UCLA teammate Lew Alcindor, the No. 1 pick, was signed for $1.4 million after the NBA skinned off the cream of the crop in the first two rounds of the 14-round grab bag on April 8.

Two other UCLA players also were chosen—Bill Sweek, a 6-2 1/2 guard, by Phoenix, and Lynn Shackelford, a 6-5 forward, by San Diego, both in the seventh round. Another UCLA star, Lucius Allen, went to Seattle in the original draft.

Stays Intact

Having closed its regular season with a perfect record, the Lawrence University tennis team now sets its sights on preparations for the Midwest Conference meet which will be held May 16 and 17 at Beloit College.

The Vikes capped the 1969 dual meet campaign by whipping Beloit, 9-0, Wednesday. This gave Lawrence an 8-0 record in dual competition and a 9-0 mark, overall, since the Vikings also took the team crown in the annual Lawrence Invitational Tournament.

Wednesday's win was accomplished without the help of No. 1 singles player, Tom Vanderhyden, who was forced to miss the meet because of an ailing arm.

Coach Ron Roberts expects Vanderhyden will be in shape for the conference meet where the Vikes will be defending champions.

SUNDAY POST-CRESCENT
for Sunday, May 11

General Features

Is war between Red China and the Soviet Union a possibility? Visiting Khabarovsk on the frontier between the two countries and interviewing inhabitants there, John T. Wheeler obtained opinions about possible war which he presents in this week's special Associated Press feature.

Women's department reporter-writer Carol Hansen continues her report on Appleton's nursery schools while the rest of the women's pages emphasize the observance of Mother's Day.

Court reporter Bill Knutson combines a sharp look at recent court cases and sentences involving narcotics in Appleton and Outagamie County with opinions from the bench and police regarding the corrective possibility of stiffer penalties.

Lindberg's "Spirit of St. Louis" and Wiley Post's "The Winnie Mae," are "hangered" in the Fox Valley . . . at least in replica. Don Castonia presents results of his interview with an Oshkosh collector who spent many hours on restoration of the famous planes.

Post-Crescent writer Maija Penikis shares the charm of Yucatan and the Mayan ruins which she visited in intriguing contrast to the customary tourist routes.

Historian Lillian Mackesy recounts the life of Appleton's first schoolmaster, Daniel Huntley; Miriam Bennett freelances on the subject of printing in the northwoods one hundred years ago.

SHOWTIME

A coincidence aligns Showtime's cover story subject, Nikos Kazantzakis, the Greek giant of modern literature with Sunday night's ABC movie, "Zorba the Greek." The latter was one of Kazantzakis' famous works all of which reflect his passion for living joyously and with freedom.

Don Royal previews a thrice-weekly nighttime "talk" show starring Dick Cavett which starts on ABC May 26.

David F. Wagner gives "thumbs up" to Bob Dylan's eagerly-awaited album, "Nashville Skyline," but doesn't have such good opinions of some others.

Darwin Debasker takes some jabs at Paul Harvey but okays Milwaukee Repertory Theater's upcoming season, first in the new Performing Arts Center.

JIM MURRAY Complicated
Suicide Found
In Laker Loss

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Don't look now, but the Celtics beat the Lakers and are the basketball champions of the world again. And God made little green apples and it does rain in Indianapolis in the summertime. And there is such a thing as Dr. Seuss and Disneyland and Mother Goose and nursery rhymes. And Communists win elections in Russia, and there's oil in Texas and a cow in Indiana and a horse in Kentucky.

And people will go around lifting up rugs and peering into dark corners and dusting things for fingerprints all summer but, I'll tell you, I'm the world champion of the obvious. I'd be a bad guy to have on a jury. I never think the butler did it. I always figure the guy all the evidence points to is guilty. The husband did it, or the wife, or the guy they found standing there with the bloody stump in his hands who was overheard in the neighborhood tavern threatening to kill.

No Conspiracy

I think John Wilkes Booth killed Lincoln, there was no conspiracy in Dallas, and there are very few complicated answers.

And I find Bill Russell's fingerprints all over this corpse. Bailiff, you can release the rest of those suspects — John Havlicek, Don Nelson, Larry Siegfried, Sam Jones and young Emmette Bryant. The court finds them not guilty.

Russell's only plea is that he can plead not guilty by reason of insanity — the insanity of the victim, that is. Can you find a rational explanation why Wilton Norman Chamberlain, the second best player in the game, was not in that game? The court herewith appoints a psychiatrist to find the answers to that one. Your witness, counselor.

Q. Now, doctor, up until 5:19 of that game, it is our intent to prove Wilton Chamberlain was the most effective player for the plaintiff in this case with 27 rebounds and 18 points.

A. But he was injured!

Q. Your honor, the defense is willing to stipulate to the injury. But we wish the record to show that we consider anything sub-cancer, anything short of gangrene, a fever of 106 or an active coma to be insufficient cause for permanent withdrawal of the player in question from the game. We intend to prove before this court that the fatal wound of the Lakers was self-inflicted. Doctor, tell us what you know about the defendant in this case, William Felton Russell?

Part Spider

A. Our records show that this man is part Svengali, part spider, and part pick-pocket under the basket. There are some centers in this league who, on the nights they play Russell, come to the game and have trouble taking their shoes off because they're afraid he won't let them. He takes the ball away from people like a cop palming apples at the neighborhood fruit stand.

Q. Can he take the ball away from Chamberlain?

A. Well, er, ah, no. But he takes the dunk shot away from Chamberlain, he forces him into the fallaway which is an inferior maneuver, or he forces him to pass off. In extreme emergencies, he fouls Chamberlain, but that, of course, is the same as taking the ball away from him. Only

Cousy Labels
NBA Offers
As Fantastic

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Cousy, who earned the title Mr. Basketball as a star for the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association, is considering "fantastic" offers to return to the NBA—as a coach.

"I have talked with three clubs and have reached the point where I've got to fish or cut bait," Cousy said on a business trip in Boston earlier this week.

A former All-American at Holy Cross, Cousy led the Celtics to several NBA titles before he retired in 1963 to become coach at Boston College.

He resigned the BC post recently after six successful seasons.

Cousy said that when he resigned at BC, "I planned to take a year off, see how much I missed the game, and then decide on my future."

He said he already misses basketball.

"I like to be involved," he explained. "The money they're talking is fantastic. And the national exposure certainly would help my other ventures."

Enemy Hopes to Force Coalition on S. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's high command has called for a summer offensive in South Vietnam to force the Saigon regime to agree to a coalition government and compel the United States to withdraw troops from the country, according to a captured document made public today.

The U.S. mission said the document was issued by the Central Office for South Vietnam, the Viet Cong's supreme headquarters.

"The importance of the summer (offensive) should be clearly pointed out," the document said. "It is a very important phase intended to compel the enemy... to accept serious negotiations with us, to withdraw troops, to recognize the National Liberation Front, and to accept a coalition government."

The document gave no timetable for the new offensive, but documents captured earlier have indicated it would start in May or June.

The National Liberation Front (NLF), political arm of the Viet Cong, put forward a 10-point peace program at the Paris talks Thursday. It included a coalition government and withdrawal of all American forces.

The Viet Cong document made public in Saigon outlined these requirements for the summer offensive:

—It must be more aggressive, stronger and more painful to the Americans and the South Vietnamese than the spring offensive launched Feb. 23.

—It must succeed in destroying, wearing down, and disintegrating more American potential, more main force South Vietnamese troops, and especially more South Vietnamese village and hamlet officials.

—It must destroy large amounts of allied war materials and supply facilities.

—It must include strong attacks on allied rear bases.

Carpenter Plans To Quit Service, Go Into Business

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter, who has been both astronaut and aquanaut, says he is retiring from the service July 1 to enter private business.

Carpenter, 44, is one of the original seven U.S. astronauts and became the second American in orbit when he piloted Aurora 7 on May 24, 1962. In August 1967, he left the space program to take part in the Navy undersea living experiment called Sealab.

Announcing his retirement Thursday, Carpenter declined to say what business he would enter or where, but said he would be in oceanographic work.

Pope Drops Many Saints From Calendar

church leaders who want to discourage veneration of dubious saints without undermining anyone's faith.

The new calendar was issued under a decree by Pope Paul VI titled Paschalia Mysteriori (Of the Paschal Mystery). It said the deleted saints were removed from the listing because it is doubtful that they ever existed.

A Vatican liturgical expert, the Rev. Pierre Journel of Paris, told a news conference the cancellations from the calendar of many popular saints "will pose an extremely delicate problem" for many Catholics.

Cancellation from the calendar means that henceforth the saints involved are not considered subjects of churchwide devotion.

Masses on their name days will no longer be said by priests throughout the church. Wherever they are traditionally esteemed locally, however, they may still be revered. But there will be no official encouragement for this.

Churches already named for them may continue to bear their names, but their names will not go to new churches.

Father Journel, who is a professor at the Superior Institute of Liturgy in Paris and member of the Liturgical Commission that drew up the new calendar, said historical truth was one of the basic goals for the reform of the calendar.

"Certain saints," he added, "can be popular because of very beautiful legends which have been created around their names without any guarantee that they existed, such as Saints Dorothy, Christopher, Barbara, and Catherine of Alexandria. They have been dropped from the official calendar. The Christian people cannot be officially asked to pray except in truth."

Here is the list of saints dropped from the liturgical calendar and the day on which they were commemorated:

St. Paul the hermit, Jan. 15; St. Maurus, Jan. 15; St. Prisca, Jan. 18; St. Martin, Jan. 30; St. Domitilla, May 12; St. Venantius of Tarsus, May 14; St. Venantius, May 18; St. Pudenciana, May 19; St. Modestus and St. Crescentia, June 15; Sts. John and Paul, June 26; St. Alexis, July 17; St. Symphorosa and her sons, July 18; St. Margaret of Antioch, July 20; St. Praxedes, July 21; St. Christopher, July 25; St. Susanna, Aug. 11; St. Eusevius, Aug. 14; St. Hippolytus, Aug. 22; St. Sabina, Aug. 29; The 12 Brothers, Sept. 1; Sts. Lucia and Geminianus, Sept. 16; St. Eustace and his Fellow Martyrs, Sept. 20; St. Thecla, Sept. 23; Sts. Cyprian and Justina, Sept. 26; St. Placid and his Fellow Martyrs, Oct. 5; Sts. Tryphus, Bacchus and Apuleius, Oct. 8; St. Ursula and her Fellow Martyrs, Oct. 21; Sts. Respicus and Numpia, Nov. 10; St. Felix of Valois, Nov. 20; St. Chrysogonus, Nov. 24; St. Katharine of Alexandria, Nov. 25; St. Bibiana, Dec. 2; St. Barbara, Dec. 4; St. Anastasia, Dec. 25.

The new calendar, which takes effect Jan. 1, includes on the other side, in order to represent all continents, St. Paul Miki and the other 16th-century Japanese martyrs of Nagasaki, the 17th-century Canadian martyrs, the 19th-century African martyrs of Uganda, and St. Peter Chanel, who was killed in Futuna Island, Oceania, in 1841.

munists "do not intend to attain the (final) victory overnight or in a single phase... The victory will not come to us in such an easy way, but it will come in a difficult and complicated way. It will be a limited victory and not a clearcut, complete victory."

The document termed the spring offensive a success which had upset President Nixon's plans.

"We did not conduct any phase (offensive) from September to February," the document said. "This made Nixon think that we lost the initiative and that he can hold a firmer, stronger position at the negotiation table."

"The success of the 1969 spring offensive upset Nixon's plan because U.S. forces were heavily hit, and their weakening puppet (South Vietnamese) army could no longer provide support for the implementation of neocolonialism."

"The antiviet movement in the U.S. lured up again, strongly demanding withdrawal of U.S. troops. In short, the 1969 spring offensive forced Nixon to adopt a clearer policy for Vietnam and to end the war in our direction."

The document claimed 45,000 allied troops were killed in the spring offensive, half of them Americans. Official allied figures for the first five weeks of the offensive — which U.S. experts now feel was the effective period — show 1,718 American, 1,799 South Vietnamese, and 24,361 enemy troops killed in action.

Higher Taxes Sought To Ease State's Debt

The Joint Finance Committee's proposal completely ignores an income tax increase, but some members of the Republican-dominated committee have said there may have to be some serious consideration of income tax levels.

The committee's plan also would boost the state's guaranteed equalized valuation on which integrated K-12 school districts' financial aid from the state is based.

Various portions of the committee's revenue package were endorsed 10-3 and 9-4. The sales tax program was presented by Assemblyman Kenneth Merkel, R-Brookfield, another leader of the budget-reduction campaign.

Lion Handler Ordered to Detame, Drive Away Pets

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — George Adamson, whose wife wrote "Born Free," is under orders to drive away three favorite lions and make them fear him and other humans.

A retired game warden, Adamson set out several years ago to save a group of lions from going to the zoo after they had appeared in the movie of his wife's book.

Three lions called Boy, Girl and Ugu have lived in peace and amity with Adamson for the past five years. He has a camp at Mugwongo, in Meru National Park about 180 miles from Nairobi. The camp is fenced to keep the lions out, but he built a platform outside for them to sun themselves.

Nine lions hang around there, and Adamson has recorded their daily activities in notebooks and on film.

Boy, Girl and Ugu came to Adamson for food and affection.

There had been pressure before for Adamson to part with the lions, the idea being that while he knew how to handle them, they might approach other humans who wouldn't. Then Boy injured the young son of Peter Jenkins, park warden at Meru, and the board of directors of Kenya's national parks directed that Adamson drive the three lions away after teaching them to distrust man.

"Instilling this fear in the lions will be very difficult and particularly so for me," Adamson said. "Anybody who has owned a dog might understand that to have to start kicking it around is not easy."

"It is exactly the same with my lions. It is quite heart-breaking to have to do this."

Adamson's savings and his limited game warden's pension have gone into his camp. Documentary of Work

There he has been observing the lions' habits. Some of his scenes were shown in a documentary on his work, "The Lions are Free," shown recently in the United States and England.

He likes to talk to, walk with and pat Boy, Girl and Ugu, a one-eyed lion.

His camp is within 20 miles of where Elsa, the lioness his wife made famous, was born and died. Her book "Born Free," tells of Adamson's life as a bartender, milk vendor, gold prospector, plantation hand and game warden.

He said in the book: "It is something remarkable that creatures which are traditionally man's enemies and among the strongest and fiercest on earth can through kindness and understanding respond with unbounded trust and affection while leading their normal lives."

"It is my hope that I may be permitted to continue my association with them indefinitely."

Adamson says if his efforts to drive away the lions fail, he will ask permission from the government to take the lions out of Kenya, perhaps to Ethiopia.

Israeli Commandos Hit Inside Jordan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Israel stepped up operations against Arab guerrillas in Jordan in the past 36 hours with a commando raid that killed three Arabs and blew up 12 houses and two air strikes.

Israeli commandos dashed a mile and a half beyond the Jordan River Thursday night in the first such raid in nine months. They attacked houses in Wadi Jabis which Arab saboteurs were believed to have used.

An Israeli spokesman said the village 20 miles south of the Sea of Galilee was abandoned. He said it had been the target of artillery attacks in the past. The spokesman said there were no Israeli casualties.

Earlier Thursday, Israeli jet fighters bombed and strafed Bir El Harir, an Arab guerrilla camp in southern Jordan 20 miles south of the Dead Sea, the Israelis reported. A spokesman said all planes returned safely.

No Casualties
A military spokesman in Amman, the Jordanian capital, said there were no casualties among Jordanian troops, but did not say anything about guerrillas.

Israeli planes hit the same target late Wednesday, but the Jordanians said ground fire drove them off.

Firing broke out again early today between Egyptians and Israelis along the Suez Canal, but Israeli spokesmen said there were no casualties. A spokesman said firing Thursday night at both ends of the waterway killed two Israeli soldiers and wounded three others, but both sides said the exchange was light compared to previous days.

At the United Nations, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik called for the U.N. cease-fire along the canal to be maintained.

Although it included a blast at Israeli leaders, Malik's statement was taken by some observers to be aimed at Egypt, which has said the cease-fire is no longer applicable along the canal because Israel has built up its fortifications there.

In Lebanon, the explosive dispute between the caretaker government and the Arab guerrilla organization called Al Saika continued. Official sources said hundreds of armed commandos remained encamped in the hills overlooking Hasbaya, in southern Lebanon, where the Lebanese army and the guerrillas clashed earlier this week.

The guerrillas are believed to be members of Al Saika, which is affiliated with the Syrian government, but Al Saika issued a statement saying it had not been involved in the clashes with the Lebanese army. It called for an investigation.

2 Public Housing Projects to be Built

Developer to Construct Appleton Units Under Federal Subsidy

An Appleton developer today revealed plans for erecting two major public housing apartment buildings on the city's north and south sides under a federal government subsidy program.

Once the project is completed, the apartments will provide 52 living units.

Carl Sengstock, head of the realty firm bearing his name, announced plans for construction this summer of a 36-unit town house apartment complex on the southwest side and a 16-unit structure on the northwest side.

The locations were not disclosed.

Earlier in the week, the city council adopted a resolution at Sengstock's request, approving participation by local housing owners in the federal supplement program.

The developer is able to charge lower rents to certain clients through a rent supplement program of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), administered by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) regional office at Milwaukee.

Sengstock as the developer of the housing projects will get a one per cent interest rate on a loan to help cover the cost of construction. In turn, he is obligated to set low rent scales for those persons qualifying.

"We are in the process of finalizing the building plans, along with working out the various income categories and rental categories," Sengstock explained today.

Low Rentals

He said under the HUD-FHA program, at least 20 per cent of the living units in the two apartment buildings must be reserved for low rentals under the federal subsidy plan.

The apartment complexes will be of the townhouse type, each unit having 1,100 square feet, including three bedrooms and a bath and a hall.

Under terms of the resolution adopted by the council Wednesday night — a procedural matter under HUD regulations — those eligible under the government rent supplement payment program include several groups.

Among them are qualified low-income families who are elderly, handicapped persons, displaced persons, victims of natural disaster, or occupants of substandard housing.

Apparently the Appleton area represents one of the localities where the federal government requires the local governing body to approve such housing projects.

OSHKOSH — The Winnebago County Airport is one of 197 airports served by scheduled airlines which have been criticized for not having any fire fighting equipment at the airport.

The criticism is contained in a report to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) by the Airline Pilots Association International which is headquartered in Washington.

Fire fighting service for the Winnebago County Airport is provided by the City of Oshkosh on a contract basis with trucks from one of two fire stations, both about a mile from the airport.

Talks have been held over the last two years on the possibility of Oshkosh building a fire station on airport property to serve the airport and growing southwest side of the city, but nothing has been resolved.

Unions May Represent Policemen

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Supreme Court ruled today that law enforcement personnel have a right to be represented by a nationally affiliated labor union in negotiations over wages, hours and working conditions.

Justice Horace Wilkie, writing for a unanimous court, modified an earlier court position that officers could not be members of a nationally affiliated union.

The decision overruled a Taylor County Circuit Court which held that members of the Medford city police force could not be represented by the Teamsters Union Local 446 in wage talks with the city.

Wilkie said that while police officers cannot belong to a union, they may be represented by one during fact finding proceedings or other negotiations.

"What to Do Now?" Miss Gertrude Backes appears to be asking herself as she holds up a new St. Christopher medal, one of many stocked at St. Francis Religious Goods Store at 128 S. Walnut Street. The Vatican has dropped Christopher from the calendar of Saints. (Post-Crescent Photo)

'Saints' Aren't Anymore

Wycislo Isn't Surprised

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Catholics were left holding their St. Christopher medals today.

A Vatican announcement revising the "Who's Who" among sainthood had a long list of dropouts — the most prominent being Christopher, patron of travelers.

However, the Most Rev. Aloysius A. Wycislo, bishop of Green Bay, cautioned Catholics in the Fox Cities and other parts of the diocese to keep their cool.

Bishop Wycislo, in a telephone interview, said he did not yet know the names of all the "saints" who had been dropped from the ranks of sainthood in a drastic revision of the liturgical calendar of the Roman Catholic Church.

From newsmen this morning he learned among those deleted were the popular St. Christopher, the figure in millions of medals; St. Barbara, and St. Susanna, for whom the American Catholic Church in Rome is named.

Existence Questioned

The new calendar, which Bishop Wycislo said was not unexpected, was issued under a decree by Pope Paul VI, and said the saints were removed from the listing because it is doubtful that they ever existed.

Bishop Wycislo agreed with the statement of the Vatican expert announcing the sainthood cancellations that, "... It will pose an extremely delicate problem for many Catholics."

"I haven't seen the document so I can't fully discuss its contents at this time," Bishop Wycislo said.

However, after the list of more than 30 names had been released by the wire services, Bishop Wycislo said he couldn't recall any churches in the diocese bearing the name of any dropped from the liturgical calendar.

Baptismal Names

At the same time, the Bishop assumed there would be a status quo for persons having baptismal and confirmation names of those "Saints" who have been relegated to the status of ex-saints.

Among the other more known names dropped from sainthood are St. Paul the Hermit, St. Martin, St. Boniface of Tarsus, St. John and Paul, St. Alexis, St. Margaret of Antioch, St. Sabina, St. Ursula and St. Anastasia.

There is no doubt today's Vatican action will bring a change in the choice of names Catholic parents select for children.

Future Churches

And it will have an affect on the names of future churches constructed and dedicated in the area.

The listed names were also dropped from the Litany of Saints used in Catholic prayer.

Bishop Wycislo concurred that Vatican authorities expect many faithful will be shocked that the Vatican doubts their favorite saints even existed.

Emotional Ties

Many removed from the calendar have been the object of hundreds of years of fervent devotion and are strongly rooted in the emotions of countless Catholics.

People and churches named after those dropped from the liturgical calendar, according to the bishop, would come under a sort of "grandfather clause."

"The latest calendar change will not change the name of

Rogers Complains to Warren

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Assemblyman William Rogers, D-Kaukauna, led seven state lawmakers Thursday in protesting to Wisconsin's attorney general that "huckstering" is taking place in backing of an electrician's licensing bill authored by Assemblyman Ervin Conrad, R-Shiocton.

"I personally do not have the qualifications to charge extortion, but this is, in my opinion, a clear case of modern day huckstering," said Rogers in his protest to Atty. Gen. Robert W. Warren.

Rogers signed the letter of protest with the six other Democratic assemblymen, and said: "The fact that there is a strong implication that a fellow legislator has joined in this effort to collect monies from these people who do not fully understand the legislative process adds more concern."

Among the co-authors of the bill with Conrad are several Northeastern Wisconsin lawmakers, including Assemblymen Milton McDougal, R-Oconto Falls and Francis Byers, R-Marion, and Sens. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto and Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek.

The bill proposed would create an electricians' licensing requirement, set up a state board to administer it, and create a "grandfather clause" permitting many persons now doing such work to be licensed without examination.

Rogers sent to Warren a copy of a circular being distributed to electrical contractors in the state by the new Wisconsin Electricians and Electrical Contractors Association, of which Howard Hazen formerly of Marawa, is executive director.

Not a Lobbyist

Hazen is not registered with the secretary of state as a lobbyist.

The cover sheet on a questionnaire circulated informs its recipients that:

"A legislative bill has been jacketed for the 1969 session of the legislature to license all electricians and state inspection of all electrical work."

"This bill will become law in 1969."

A-C, K-C Among Firms Assailed by African Students

Special to The Post-Crescent

MADISON — Because of their business interests in South Africa, two firms with Fox Cities connections were criticized today by the University of Wisconsin's African Students Union.

The attack against Kimberly-Clark Corp. and Allis-Chalmers came during a UW Board of Regents meeting. Prime target, however, was the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York. The African Students requested the regents to refuse UW investments in the bank, stating that it "is helping to support the apartheid machine of South Africa."

"The policy of apartheid has consequences that involve systematic oppression and injustice for the majority of Africans, Asians and colored populations," wrote George Ojammuga, president of the protesting group.

UW Investments criticized, aside from K-C and A-C, were General Motors, Mobile Oil, Standard Oil subsidiaries.

Not in 'Inner Circle' Sole Woman Alderman Tells 'Y' Auxiliary of Doings of City Council

BY ALICE HUCK

Post-Crescent Women's Editor

Ald. Dorothy Draheim (14th) Thursday noon gave about 60 women a glimpse into the inner workings of the Appleton City Council and her experiences as its lone woman member when she talked at the annual meeting of the YMCA Women's Auxiliary.

The first-term office holder frankly admitted she is not a member of the "inner circle," as indicated by the title of her message, "Out in Left Field."

Elaborating, Miss Draheim pointed out that she could hardly be included in the inner circle meetings in the men's rest rooms, or, as one of her friends called it, "the privy council."

Miss Draheim said her acceptance by the men was better than she had been led to expect, but that there are still questions in the air such as "... what will she do? ... what questions will she ask? ... and "who's behind her?"

Rely on Newspaper

She explained that most of the formal business of the council takes place in committee meetings, and that when the motions from the committees get to the floor on council meeting nights, they are speedily read, made, and seconded with not even a breathing space. Therefore, Miss Draheim said one of her "musts" now is the daily reading of the local news pages of The Post-Crescent.

"None of us," Miss Draheim said, "could act intelligently at a council meeting without this daily reading of the paper." She said she was frankly relieved when she began to hear her fellow council members say, "I didn't know about it until I read it in the paper today."

Although admitting to her dependency on The Post-Crescent, Miss Draheim took issue

Paul Engle Captures Audience

Paper Executives Served Poetry at Dinner

BY RICHARD G. LYNEIS
Post-Crescent City Editor

When 300 board chairmen, presidents and other top executives from the paper industry gathered in one room to hear a talk, an observer would hardly expect to hear a poet reading from letters written by 17th Century American Puritans.

However, that was the scene Thursday night at North Shore Golf Club where poet Paul Engle was the main banquet speaker at the 40th annual Institute of Paper Chemistry Executives' Conference.

Things were not always so unpredictable.

Last year the speaker was Dr. George Stigler, a University of Chicago professor of American institutions, who talked about "challenges to business posed by threats to the enterprise system."

No Surprises

No surprises that year. In 1967, "The Three Gifts of Science" was the topic of the talk by Anatol Rapoport, a professor of mathematical biology at the University of Michigan.

Once again, no surprises. There was some deviation from the expected pattern in 1966 when Harvard University's Dr. Roger Revelle chastised the American businessman for not showing enough concern when he spoke on "Science in the Poor Countries."

Some surprises, but the sort of thing businessmen were starting to become accustomed to in 1966.

It was a mild bombshell in 1965 when liberal and controversial University of Chicago Prof. Hans Morgenthau talked on "The Five Dilemmas of American Foreign Policy."

His un-American business-like attitude was totally unexpected because in 1965 Hans Morgenthau wasn't yet so well known so that he could be termed controversial.

Surprises, yes; and it became unlikely then Dr. Morgenthau would be invited for a return visit.

In 1964, the paper executives listened to Vermont Royster, editor of The Wall Street Journal.

No surprises.

Paul Engle, Thursday night's speaker, turned out to be the most unlikely of all.

Founder of the University of Iowa's famed Creative Writing Program, he is now the much-traveled director of The Program for International Writing. He has discovered and encouraged such talent as that of novelist and short story writer Flannery O'Connor, poet W. D. Snodgrass and Korean Richard Kim whose novel, "The Martyred," won wide acclaim.

He is the only poet on The National Council on the Arts and is a member of the Advisory Council for The Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C.

Last week, Random House published Engle's collection of love poems under the title, "Embrace." He has written a dozen other books of verse, a novel, an opera libretto, stories and poems for children.

Remember Women

The title of Engle's talk, "Remember the Women," gave an impression of possible nostalgia, what with Mothers Day only three days off.

Instead, it turned out to be readings from the papers of Puritan John Winthrop to his wife, Margaret; and excerpts from letters between John and Abigail Adams when the former was off helping write the U.S. Constitution.

While Adams was in Philadelphia on this chore, Abigail instructed him in a letter, "... In your laws, remember the

Arson Cited in Mill Fire

MENASHA — Arson by vandals has been determined as the cause of a fire that did considerable damage to a truck and portion of the building housing Menasha Mill Supply, 317 Appleton St., Fire Chief Cornelius Rippl said today.

The company-owned truck, filled with bales of scrap paper, was backed up to a loading door in the front of the building and vandals set the fire in the truck, Rippl said investigation determined.

Flames spread from the truck, through the loading door and ate upwards into a second-story area where more paper bales and a broke-box filled with scrap were touched off.

Firemen were called at 9:22 p.m. by patrons at the Falcons Club, 544 Fourth St. Men and trucks returned to the fire station at 10:45 p.m.

Insurance adjusters were expected today to estimate the cost of the blaze, the second at the plant in recent weeks.

In the past year or two, there have been a number of fires, both at the Mill Supply firm and other neighboring structures in the industrial-warehouse area located in the railroad strip between Third and Fourth streets.

When firemen arrived on the scene Thursday, Chief Rippl said, no one was found near the scene.

Gateway to Double Neenah Operation

NEENAH — Contracts totaling $200,000 have been awarded to double the dock and office facilities at the Gateway Transportation Co., Inc., terminal on Green Bay Road.

According to plans announced by Tom E. Price, La Crosse, Gateway construction engineer, existing garage space will be converted into offices and 24 loading doors will be added bringing the total to 42. Bernard Dufrane, local Gateway manager, said construction is scheduled to start "in the very near future, possibly next week."

The present facilities were built in 1951 and according to Dufrane, the local operation has outgrown the facility.

The new loading dock will be 70 feet wide including a step-down portion on each side to accommodate mechanical dock board. Overhead mercury vapor lights and 12-foot canopies are being designed into the building.

When completed, office space will be increased from 1,200 square feet to 4,100 and will include heating, cooling, tile floors at dock level, dropped acoustical ceiling, fluorescent lighting and paneling.

A new service facility and check lane, replacing the present one, will be added at the north end of the dock with two check lanes and an additional tractor servicing land in the 88 by 48 foot area. A new com-

Town Seeks COG Membership Data

MENASHA — Three interview meetings have been scheduled by the special Town of Menasha study committee to obtain data on whether or not the town should continue membership in the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG).

Separate meetings will be held with the Menasha Town Board on May 12, Eugene Franchette, executive director of COG, on May 19, and with Gordon Bubolz, chairman of the Northeastern Regional Planning Commission on May 21.

The special five-man committee was set up Monday night when Harry Lopas, a town resident, complained the town was not getting its money's worth out of its COG membership.

Town Chairman Roland Kampo appointed Lopas chairman of the study committee. Others on the committee are Town Supv. Robert Wisner, Town Assessor Edwin Harold, Veldor Kopitzke and James Greiner. Kopitzke was named vice chairman of the committee and Greiner, secretary.

A written recommendation to the town board as to whether the town should continue its membership in COG will be made June 23.

The study will attempt to determine (1) what services

Air Wisconsin at Oshkosh?

OSHKOSH — Air Wisconsin serve Oshkosh?

That possibility may be investigated Supv. James Coughlin, Winneconne, a member of the county board's aviation committee, raised the question Thursday night.

Airport Manager Michael T. Brock, who has been here for only three weeks, admitted he hasn't given the subject much thought but said he would add it to his list of items for study.

Coughlin said he would like to find out if Air Wisconsin could provide any services that would complement service now provided by North Central Airlines.

Landfill Most Economical for Waste Disposal

Committee Feels Incinerator Costs Will be Prohibitive

When Fox Cities area officials decide on how residents will dispose of their rubbish and garbage in the future, they should choose the most economical method — sanitary landfill.

This was the consensus of a committee of the Fox Valley Council of Governments (COG) members of the Fox Valley technical advisory committee on public works.

The committee met to look at the preliminary report unveiled last week on alternative methods for disposing of solids waste in the Fox Cities area for the next 30 years. The projected needs were based on population projections.

The alternative to landfill was incineration, according to the report of Donohue and Associates, Sheboygan-based engineering firm making the study.

Landfill Process However, the committee felt the costs were prohibitive, despite certain advantages over sanitary landfill. Donohue now will be directed to concentrate analysis on the landfill process.

The final decision lies with the COG governing body, which could prefer incineration, but is likely to follow the committee's preference.

With landfill in mind, the major concern will be hauling and transfer station costs — the lion's share for operating that type of system. Committeemen noted hauling costs could make or break the system's success.

Donohue's studies still are preliminary but the firm reported that it favored establishing a 640-acre site in northwestern Grand Chute and two transfer stations, one west of Neenah and another between Combined Locks and Kaukauna.

Second Choice A second landfill alternative was the 640-acre site plus a 500-acre site in the southeastern part of the Town of Buchanan.

Sanitary landfill proposals ranged in cost up to about $900,000, while incineration costs were as high as $12 million. However, landfill sites are limited because of the high groundwater level in this area.

Committeemen Thursday also indicated that they preferred the open-type storm sewer system, which is less expensive than the closed conduit system. They concurred with Donohue that a system to handle the worst storms in a 25- or 50-year period should be built.

Donohue will conclude the one-year $210,000 studies in September. They have been conferring with the advisory committee to gain insight into the political and economic attitudes of the communities.

Bargaining Retained in Agent to be

MENASHA Existing agreements between public works employees and the city will be pushed aside and a "completely new contract" will be demanded when the union and city enter negotiations that were made possible by a state-supervised representative election Thursday, a union spokesman said.

The public works employees voted 23-17 in favor of maintaining membership in Local 1035 of the public employees union. The election was conducted by the Wisconsin Employment Relations Commission (WERC) on request of Vincent Huntington, a street and sanitation worker who at one time had proposed forming an independent local union to replace Local 1035.

The election tentatively clears,

Kimberly Waiting

Lack of Funds Delays Park Swimming Lake

KIMBERLY — The swimming lake being developed at Sunset Point Park will not be ready for use this summer as originally planned because of a delay in receipt of federal aid, according to Village President Alvin Fulcer.

The village has applied for about $47,000 in aid for development of the lake. Approval is expected by early July. Once a project is started, a community does not qualify for aid and must assume the entire cost, Fulcer said, explaining why work is being delayed.

The village now could fill the lake with water, but could not develop the parking area, landscape the grounds or construct a bathroom without jeopardizing the aid application. Then too, a fence could not be constructed around the area creating an extremely hazardous situation, Fulcer noted.

Arrangements have been made with Kimberly-Clark Corp. to again operate the swimming pool on Main Street as in the past, with the corporation to furnish life guards and attendants. The village will reimburse the corporation for cost the way for starting one of two sets of negotiations delayed since last year by disputes. The WERC also was brought into the other dispute, which enters a new phase at 9 a.m. Saturday when a factfinder, appointed by the state agency, meets with representatives of the city and Professional Policemen's Association No. 34.

Bargaining between the city and police group stalled twice before the WERC named Gordon Halberbecker, Stevens Point State University faculty member, as factfinder on request of the policemen.

Did you ever notice, she ked, "how the strategic place- nt of letters to the editor m constituents can be made form another editorial point view? Perhaps, Miss Dra- im suggested, the solution is other paper.

Miss Draheim explained that e biggest problem of the ncil is the need to match the mands of constituents against e money available. She took e public to task for only peering at council meetings ich seem to involve a crisis, ch as budgeting, but praised ganizations such as the age of Women Voters, the nericen Association of Uni- versity Women and others who me to meetings well prepared justify a point of view. school budget, which Miss Draheim said she also supported.

Miss Draheim said she reserves the woman's prerogative of "changing her mind," and did so on a recent zoning request. She said initially she had supported a zoning change "out on Meade Street" to allow the building of an apartment in a newly-annexed single family area.

Second Look

However, she said when let- ters began to come in from property owners who objected to the rezoning she began to take a look at, and to become concerned about the "apartment ring around the city." We need apartments, but more of them should be built in the inner city, she said.

Going back to the woman's point of view, Miss Draheim said that unfortunately her personal job makes it impossible for her to be at the city hall during the day, when the busi- ness of the city is being carried on. She referred to the city hall as a place for men where women are really only part of the furnishings. They do the routine work, she said, like the typing, dictation, duplicating and some other things.

Miss Draheim explained the physical organization of the council with Mayor George Buckley flanked by the city clerk on his right and the city attorney on his left, with council members in rows on each side. Sometimes the meetings are opened with a formal prayer, if there is a member of the clergy present, but more often there are a couple moments of silent prayer, and then the Pledge of Allegiance. She said there was a ripple in the council the night when someone paraphrased the Pledge by inserting "One na- tion. . . under Buckley."

'Drinks With the Rest'

Miss Draheim said another inner circle meeting she attend- ed only once is the one held at a local bar after the council meeting is adjourned. "The next day I heard comments. She put her money on the bar just like the rest of us. She drank her beer like the rest of us, but not much. Unfortunately," Miss Draheim said, "invitations to these meetings usually come about 11 p.m., and the next day is always Thursday."

I was warned about my position as the only woman by (former Ald.) Dorothy Stillings. Miss Draheim said. She told me I would wake up at 3 a.m. wondering, "Now what have I done." If I ever woke up at 3 a.m., I suppose I would "wonder," she admitted.

Miss Draheim closed her talk with an appeal to the women to get into politics and told them they would find friends who would be willing to help. "I found there were a lot of Lawrence University alumna in the 14th Ward," she said. Miss Draheim is registrar at the university.

Supervisor From Neenah Disputes Attorney's Letter

NEENAH — Supv. Oliver Thomsen of Neenah, has taken issue with statements made by an anonymous attorney in a letter to the editor which appeared in The Post-Crescent earlier this week.

The letter writer implied Thomsen had investigated "the department of public welfare" and had looked at welfare files and had found no abuses.

Thomsen said he had never said there were no abuses in department of social services cases and that he has never looked at case files which are closed to the public.

Thomsen said experience has shown welfare fraud cases run about 2 per cent which is just slightly higher than business fraud cases.

women. . . The phrase developed into the title of Engle's talk.

"We were the first country," he mused, "in which women were taught to read and write; as a result, perhaps unfortunately, we found out what women think and feel."

Witchcraft Era

Developing the attitudes of early American males toward womanhood, Engle examined the "Era of Witchcraft" in 17th Century New England and read from original journals he had studied at Salem, Mass.

He told of Martha Carrier who was accused of witchcraft and the testimony of one of her accusers. The accuser testified that Martha caused his head to "turn involuntarily" whenever she passed him on the street.

Martha's defense didn't help, Engle observed.

Her reply: "If his head was turned right off his shoulders, it would be small loss to Salem."

Engle commented, "She obviously was very dangerous. She was hung."

He told of Judge Sewell who presided at the trials of 19 women who were condemned for witchcraft.

Greivous Error

"One day," said Engle, "Judge Sewell arose in church and, in the presence of the widowers of the witches, said:

"I wish to admit my greivous error."

Going on about Sewell, Engle once again read from his writings: "My wife has been ill. I called in the Rev. Dr. Mather to read over her. He did well, after which my wife died."

He recollected later: "God has sentenced me to a live of widowhood. . . I don't think I'll like it."

Not many men could or would, Engle observed.

Perfect Gift

Perhaps it was the element of a totally unexpected, or perhaps it was Engle's charming personality and humorous style and delivery, but the paper executives seemed to enjoy the Iowa-born poet more than any other banquet speaker in recent years.

This was indicated by the unusual ending to his talk.

He mentioned that his new collection of love poems, "Embrace," had just been published by Random House. "It's the perfect gift," Engle chuckled.

Everyone applauded loudly, and the prospects are that Engle may have sold a couple hundred books.

Ground crew employees of both Air Wisconsin and Maxair, Inc., have been trained in the operation of the truck, along with members of the Appleton Fire Department.

Fire fighting procedures at the airport call for either Air Wisconsin or Maxair employees to man the truck in the event of a fire until Appleton firemen arrive on the scene.

Special Foam

The truck carries special foam and chemical equipment for the type of fire that would be encountered from aircraft.

Neither Winnebago County nor Outagamie County has ever had a crash at the airport at which a fire truck was needed, although trucks have been called to the Winnebago County Airport on a standby basis on several occasions.

Oshkosh does not have any trucks equipped specially for airport operations, although special foam equipment is kept at the airport and flameproof suits have been purchased.

"Only one (1) meeting will be held in your area — make sure you attend and register."

Hazen's name appears on the cover sheet, and on the questionnaire which accompanies it.

It allows the recipients to rank themselves in the categories which the Conradt bill would create in the law, and asks if they wish to be licensed without state examination.

Then it adds:

"Enclosed please find my dues. Please register me for a grandfather license for which I feel I am qualified."

Dues listed range from $10 to $25 and beyond, based on the category selected.

Several Months Ago

"This had been first called to my attention several months ago by friends of mine in Outagamie County," Rogers wrote Warren.

"The implication these people had was that the material strongly suggests that if you do not join this organization, you will be out of a job."

"I am sure that as a former member of the legislative branch of government, you can share my apprehension of this type of promotion," Rogers wrote Warren.

"Several other legislators who have been contacted by their constituents on this same matter share this concern with me. The fact is that there is strong implication that a fellow legislator has joined in this effort to collect monies from these people who do not fully understand the legislative process adds more concern.

"Some of the questions I would be interested in knowing are: How can a lobbyist or legislator legally tell people before the legislation has been written or introduced that it will become law?"

The material Rogers sent Warren was dated March 6; the bill was introduced in the legis- latures which the Conradt bill would create in the law, and

The letter asked Warren to suggest corrective measures of actions of the attorney general's office which might be taken in light of the charges.

Woman Injured in Car-Truck Accident

A car-truck accident about 6:50 p.m. Thursday on U. S. 41, two miles north of Kaukauna, resulted in a neck injury to Margaret K. Guth, Elmwood Park, Ill.

Outagamie County police said her car, which was northbound on 41, was struck in the rear by a truck driven by Hilary F. Jandro, 44, Green Bay. Police estimated damage at $1,250.

YMCA Boy's Chorus, Lawrence U. Choir Team Up for Program

First Time Together, 38 Youngsters and 60 Students to Perform Sunday Afternoon

Two Appleton choirs, the 38-voice YMCA Boy's Chorus and 60-voice Lawrence University Choir, will join forces Sunday for a program of 20th century music. The concert starts at 4 p.m. in Memorial Chapel.

Their performance of Heinz Zimmmerman's five-movement "Psalmkonzert" will highlight the program which includes a 1967 composition, "Psalm 39," by Lawrence Conservatory Dean LaVahn Maesch.

The two choirs will make the joint appearance, their first, under the direction of Assistant

Prof. Karle J. Erickson, Lawrence Choir head. Robert Penn, supervisor of public school music, directs the YMCA singers.

Instrumental Solos

"Psalmkonzert," a jazz-style composition, includes a movement for boys voices and a series of vocal and instrumental solos to be performed by Lawrence students. They include baritone Fred Schuetze, Monroe; vibraphonist Sarah Swanson, Stevens Point; bassist David Leonard, Manitowoc; trumpeters Edward Engle, Rockford, Ill., Daniel Hansen, Manitowoc, and Paul Smith, Oshkosh.

Maesch's score was written for organist Richard Westenburg and the choir of Central Presbyterian Church, New York City. Westenburg is a 1954 conservatory graduate and a former organ student of Maesch. He was organist at the First Presbyterian Church, Neenah, in the early 1950's.

"Psalm 39" Soloists

"Psalm 39" soloists include soprano Maribeth Hartwig, Seymour; tenor Daniel Foster, Appleton; and bass David Varnum, Rockford, Ill. Pianist Paul Emmons, Appleton, will accompany them.

The Ralph Vaughan-Williams "Mass in G Minor" occupies the program's second part. Incorporating six traditional sections of the mass, the work includes solo roles for five singers.

These are soprano Carol Jegen, Evergreen Park, Ill.; contralto Meredith Montgomery, Excelsior, Minn.; tenor Daniel Foster; bass David Varnum, and intoner Dean Whiteway, LaCrosse.

The program also includes "Easter Te Deum," by Daniel Moe; "Brazilian Psalm," by Jean Berger, and "This is the Day," by Flor Peeters.

The program is open to the public with no admission charge.

Conflict of Specials Bad For Viewers

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 Channel 11 — Television plays one of its most popular practical jokes on viewers, programming the evening's two best features in the same time period. To compound the matter, both are attractive to the same type audience. Riddle of the Mayan Caves was produced in association with The Explorer's Club. A team of 10 men and one woman made up the group whose purpose was both scientific and curiosity. Scientifically, they are searching for artifacts to document the life habits of the Mayans whose civilization flourished hundreds of years ago.

6:30-7:30 Channel 5 — The second "nature" special is a rerun of Big Cats, Little Cats. You'll see an alley cat making his daily rounds, a cat giving birth to a kitten, people who own cats and cats who "own" people. There is also a look at the big cats of Africa as well as the influence felines have had on advertising. Lorne Greene narrates.

6:30-7:30 Channel 2 — The old prohibition era protection racket is recreated in bizarre form on The Wild West. It's about a sinister scientist who goes into the insurance business. If you don't buy a policy he will "blow your house down" with a giant tuning fork.

7:30-8 Channel 2 — Gomer Pyle puts his foot into it on Gomer Pyle USMC. What he puts it into is a bronzed boot, the camp booty prize, which Sgt. Carter has vowed to lose. When Gomer gets stuck in it, Carter realizes the only way to get rid of it is to get rid of Gomer.

7:30-9 Channel 5 — The guest combination of Darren McGavin, Juliet Prowse and Gypsy Rose Lee doesn't have the ring of a farm story, but that's how The Name of the Game starts. McGavin plays a folksy type country millionaire whose holdings are beginning to look like the State of Texas. And he wants more. Things are moving along just fine until Miss Prowse enters, accusing the agriculturalist of complicity in the murder of her brother.

8:30-9 Channel 11 — The Guns of Will Sonnet has a little yarn about a farmer who accuses one of his hands of stealing and sends him to jail. When the man is released, his ex-boss takes him back again.

8-10 Channel 2 — Don't be fooled by the fact that "The Alphabet Murders" on The Friday Night Movies is an Agatha Christie murder mystery. This adaptation has none of the story-telling skills that lady possesses. Tony Randall, complete with bald pate and false nose, plays the Belgium detective Hercule Poirot who is in London and is talked into taking a busman's holiday when a series of murders begins. Robert Morley is co-starred.

9-10 Channel 5 — The Saint enjoys one of its better programs with an episode that goes from deadly serious to off beat humor and always action, action, action.

Softball Tournament

Approval was given to Outagamie County Teachers College to use the No. 1 softball diamond at the Doty Bayorgeon Recreation Area for a May 16 county teacher college tournament. A request for asphalt on portions of the track in the area was tabled as no money was included in the budget for such improvement.

Robert Natrop, city engineer, was asked to investigate the feasibility and cost of providing sanitary sewer and water service to the area of the new softball field. The street department foreman was instructed to have gravel placed on the parking area near the new diamond.

Recreation Director Gertz was instructed to seek a play area north of Hyland Avenue and make recommendations to the health and recreation committee by May 31.

House Panel Examines Plan For Milk Base

equal percentage of the Class 1 proceeds as represented in payments to producers in the market who had previously acquired bases.

— Provisions that such allocation to new producers be made within 60 days of their entry into the market.

— Provisions that all bases be wiped out and reassigned at least once every four years.

— Provision for specific retention of a 1937 act which says "no marketing agreement or order applicable to milk and its products in any marketing area shall prohibit or in any manner limit, in the case of the products of milk, the marketing in that area of any milk or milk product thereof produced in any production area in the United States."

No Guarantee

A Class 1 base plan was considered by the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee last October. It was never reported out of that committee, apparently because it did not contain provisions necessary to safeguard new, small, milk producers and did not specify guarantee of the free flow of milk in interstate commerce.

Spokesmen for both Sen. William Proxmire and Sen. Gaylord Nelson said Monday that the House bill as it now stands is so complex as to formula and base plan that both the Senators were withholding comment on it until final action by the House committee.

Rep. William A. Steiger, Oshkosh, said although he supported a similar bill last year, he also would withhold his judgment on the measure until the committee reported it to the House. Steiger wants to be sure it will be amended to protect milk marketing quotas for new producers, as well as insure that dairy farmers can continue to ship milk out-of-state.

Suggest Using $1 Million in Oleo Tax for Dairy Promotion

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The State Department of Agriculture would like to launch a foreign sales promotion program on behalf of Wisconsin dairy products, in the unlikely event it gets a boost of a million dollars a year in promotion funds, it has informed the legislature.

The department did not make such a request when it formally presented its budget, but it suggested the idea in a note on the fiscal effect of a bill introduced by a group of Democrats that would use otherwise unallocated margin tax receipts for dairy promotion expansion.

When the margarine tax was reduced to slightly more than six cents a pound two years ago, and the prohibition of the colored product was repealed, the legislature set aside $1,050,000 for the prospective receipts per year for the future construction of a dairy science building on the University of Wisconsin campus.

But the tax yield on margarine sales are considerably greater than expected, and the state treasury is collecting about $2,250,000 a year. The Democratic bill proposes to use the margarine receipts in excess of the building appropriation for a substantially increased dairy promotion effort, covering the whole range of Wisconsin dairy products.

With the huge budget deficit, however, observers regard it as unlikely that the expanded program will be approved by the legislature which is under the control of a Republican majority in each house.

Corporations Small Part of U. S. Farming

Study of 25 States Shows 4,850 Firms Hold 13 Million Acres

Corporations control only a small part of national farming according to a 25-state study of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

The survey, by the USDA Economic Research Service, lists 4,850 corporation-designated farms operating 13-million acres in the Northeast, Appalachia, Southeast, Delta and Southern Plains.

These corporations represent less than one per cent of commercial farms, work less than 5 per cent of the land, and take a 6 per cent share of gross farm product sales. Findings are similar to an earlier study of corn belt, lake, mountain, and Pacific Northwest states, where corporations were responsible for less than 1 per cent of commercial units, less than 7 per cent of the acreage, and sold about 4 per cent of the agricultural commodities.

Nearly two-thirds of corporate farms listed were family-owned, 15 per cent individually held, and 21 per cent run by other corporations. The earlier study found 71 per cent controlled by families.

Record Prices Paid in 1968 For Holsteins

During 1968 registered Holsteins sold at public auction established four new U.S. records.

Top average price ever achieved at a consignment sale in the U.S. was established in October at the World Premiere Sale in Madison. A group of 30 head averaged $3,795 per animal to break a record of $3,236 established in 1966 at the National Convention Sale in Wichita, Kansas.

The average price per head hit $579 for 17,663 Holsteins sold in 290 auctions.

The highest price ever paid for a female was $44,000 for Future Hope Reflector Blacky, sold in the Tara Hills Farm Dispersal, Millbrook, New York to Rowntree Farms of Canada. Twenty-two auctions, each averaging $1,000 or more, set a record for the number of auctions held.

Spraying Necessary

No Easy Method for Apple Pest Control

BY V.W. PERUTKY

Winneshago County Farm Management Agent

There is no simple formula for apple pest control. Scab and worm infested apples are the result of not spraying for disease and insect control. Apples are the main tree fruit raised here commercially, in farm orchards, and in backyards. Quality fruit growing is easier in a commercial orchard where the entire acreage is managed, and it's a challenge for the one-tree apple grower in a neighborhood where no one else sprays.

When green tips appear on apple trees, a fungicide spray is needed for scab prevention. Scab is a fungus disease starting emerging spores from last season's leaves or fruit lying in grass in the tree area. No insecticide is required, nor should it be applied until after the blossom petals have fallen.

Appleton pest control actually is a neighborhood project. The best program is difficult if neighbors with apple trees do not spray. But many people consistently raise quality fruit regardless of whether or not unkept apple trees are near by. This, however, requires technical knowledge and effort.

Control takes well pruned trees, either dwarf type or regular type trees, open and topped so they can be easily sprayed. A good sprayer is best. Commercial spray machines develop a pressure creating a fog or mist, coverage is complete, there is little or no dripping. Alternative sprayers are small, power driven mobile units, two to three gallon pump-up sprayers, or garden hose attachments.

A protective coverage of fungicide is required from the time green tips appear up to fruit harvest time. An insecticide is required for constant protection following petal fall, after bees have left the blossoms, and up close to harvest time.

Spray effect is worn off in seven to 10 days. Therefore a spray coverage is needed every seven to 10 days, seven if it's rainy or damp, 10 if it's dry. More details on tree and small fruit growing, are available at the extension office in a leaflet, "Fruit Growing in Winnebago County - 1969."

Slug control will be needed. Last summer's wet spell hiked the number of slugs. With little frost last winter, I assume many lived over to be fatter and thicker than ever, should we have another wet season. They eat flowering plants, vegetable, anything high in plant sap.

Sanitation is most important in prevention of slugs. All surface organic matter, hay or leaf mulch, or manure and boards should be cleaned up and avoided. A slug bait is available at most garden centers, the bait attracts slugs, it is reasonably effective when used early and according to label directions.

New lawns frequently breed pinpoint-sized clover mites. Spraying an insecticide on grass will curtail them, usually they're gone in a couple of weeks. Most people suck them into a vacuum hose when they're in the house and otherwise live with them a while. They'll go away after a time. Where clover mites cause a nervous tension, maybe a commercial exterminator is the answer. Actually they do no harm to anyone nor anything.

New Market Sought for U. S. Farm Exports

Three Teams of Economists to Visit 15 Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three four-man teams including agricultural economists from state universities and colleges have left on a three-week world tour to study foreign market possibilities for boosting U.S. farm exports.

Agriculture Department officials said the economists will visit 15 countries of Asia and Europe. The overseas tours will be paid for by the department's Foreign Agricultural Service.

The tours are co-sponsored by the department's Federal Extension Service, which administers federal aid to land-grant colleges and universities under the cooperative extension service arrangement with states, and the National Agricultural Policy Committee.

Lloyd H. Davis, head of the federal extension service, said the economists will report on their findings upon returning to help farmers and agricultural businessmen "make adjustments to changing trade situations."

Farmers want to know more about the influences of foreign import controls, tariffs, quality requirements and other factors affecting markets, Davis said.

Bidders pushed prices to a total of $18,535 at the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders' Spring Sale at the county fairgrounds in Seymour.

The average sale price for 39 Holsteins consigned at the sale was $475.

Two two-year olds tied for high sale price of $785. One was consigned by John A. VerVoort, Kaukauna, and purchased by Frank Bialozynski, Pulaski and the other was consigned by H. E. Pipping, Rosendale, and purchased by Allan Staley, Seymour.

The only bull sold at the auction was consigned by Marvin Krahn, route 1, Seymour and sold for $340.

Top price paid for a calf was $405 for a consignment by Robert Krohlow, route 1, Black Creek.

The high yearling was consigned by Raymond Jerek, route 1, Bonduel, and sold for $680.

Average prices were a bull, $340; 12 calves, $280; 6 yearlings, $443; $7 two-year-olds, $610; and 3 cows, $602.

Animal Mothers on Parade

Farm Animals Lead a Varied Parade of pigs, colts, lambs, rabbits and calves on Mother's Day. Little Hampshires, only 10-hours old, crowd their mother as they seek warmth, food and security. The pigs are the special project of 15-year-old Dale Schwanke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Schwanke, star route, Weyauwega. A 9-day-old filly, held by Mrs. Gary Stiebs, route 2, Ogdensburg, nudges her mother as she journeys from a boxstall for the first time. Wide-open spaces are new to the colt making it apprehensive about being away from Mom for the first time. More independent are wooly lambs which frisk on wiry legs with confidence. The six-month-old purebred Columbia lambs are from the Schwanke farm. Tiny New Zealand whites cuddle close to their mother. The rabbits, pets of Jim Schwanke, arrived just in time to qualify Mrs. Rabbit as a Mother's Day participant. # Middle East Plagued By Ancient Hatred

Than Thousand Airplanes, Thousand Tanks

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

JERUSALEM — There is an intense and special quality about the hate that more and more Arabs feel for Israel, the same hate that brought about the recent downfall of the government of Lebanon following pro-commando riots.

Far to the south on the edge of the Sinai desert, in the notorious Gaza Strip where 250,000 Palestinian refugees are penned up in shanties and fed a survival minimum of 1,500 calories a day, the hate is palpable.

"Our hate for Israel is

Evans

stronger than a thousand planes and a thousand tanks," a Gaza merchant told us. "They have their waiting wall, but it is 2,000 years old. We have our waiting walls, too, and they are fresh in our memory. They have our land, but we will get it back. There will never be peace."

Outside along the squalid street that bordered the main market place were Israeli "red hats," the justly-famed paratroopers who were recently sent here to keep order. They walked warily in twos and threes — watching the Arabs, fingering the trigger of the Uzi sub-machine gun in one hand, swinging a heavy club in the other.

Schools Closed

For one month, all the secondary schools have been shut in reprisal for anti-Israeli riots by school children who demanded the right to make peaceful demonstrations. The Israeli price for reopening the schools: a pledge by civic leaders that it will not happen again (a pledge the Arabs cannot enforce).

Gaza is a unique place in the Israeli occupation, a place that the Israelis definitely do not want to keep if a settlement is ever reached.

But Gaza is only one of many places seized by Israel in the six-day war. Although Israeli officials swear they would gladly give most of the occupied territories back in return for genuine peace, the mood among most Israelis today is that, whatever is done with Gaza, much of the seized lands must never, never return to Arab rule. Particularly is this true in those half dozen places where, as in Bar Etzion, 15 miles south of here, Israeli settlers have put down deep roots in what used to be the West Bank of Jordan.

On our first visit to Bar Etzion, over a year ago, half a dozen couples were living in old Jordanian Quonset huts, planting an orchard and looking more like weekend vacationers than permanent settlers. Now that air of impermanence has vanished. The population has grown close to 100 and the steel frame of a small factory that will make electronic equipment for the Israeli army has been erected on a leveled field.

Ask these young Israelis about the future of the West Bank and they are surprised the question is raised.

"Of course there is no doubt about it," said a 25-year-old transplanted American from Trenton, N.J., who moved to Israel four months ago. "According to the bible, this is part of Palestine. Who cares what the United Nations says? That's just talk."

And another young man chimed in: "We keep the West Bank and we should some day take the East Bank (the remaining part of Jordan). It will not be easy but it was not easy establishing our country in the first place."

The settlers at Bar Etzion belong to a minority religious sect (called Hapoel Hamizrai) that is fundamentalist and takes its political direction from the Old Testament. But their conviction about the future of Israel is not much different from that of other Israelis.

Can these two extremes — "The hate that is stronger than a thousand planes" that grips Gaza and the expectation of a greater Israel that thrills the settlers at Bar Etzion — ever find a way to exist in peace? The question answers itself: Never, unless Egypt and the Arab states give up the battle, and that's not going to happen.

What is going to happen is years, perhaps decades, of half-war with the Russians and the Americans bargaining to keep each other on the sidelines and with the Israelis, for the foreseeable future, holding all the important cards.

NORTHBRIDGE, Calif. (AP) — The air battle lasted three hours and occupied 196 professors and students of San Fernando Valley State College.

A plane put together by Mike Tharnow, 19, was the distance winner with a flight of 135 feet, 2 inches. The longest floater was Tim Wyndham's four inches of tissue, which stayed aloft 35 seconds.

The pilot of all the paper planes Wednesday was Doty Heitz, a 51-year-old coed and the only volunteer to climb to the top rung of the 30-foot ladder.

It Was Warmer Than Usual In April — and Wetter as Well

April in Appleton was both wetter and warmer than usual. The monthly precipitation total of 3.13 inches was 0.53 inches above normal, according to statistics kept by Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., with the largest daily amount of 1.15 inches falling on the 4th. Only a trace of snow fell during April, leaving the cumulative snowfall amount for the 1968-69 season at 40.9 inches, 2.3 inches below normal. December and January accounted for 39.2 inches of this cumulative total.

The April mean temperature was 45.5 degrees, which is 1.4 degrees above normal. The monthly maximum was 70 degrees on the 9th; and the minimum was 23 degrees on the 3rd.

Heating degree days in Appleton totaled 580 during April, compared to a normal of 630 and a 1968 figure of 523. The Appleton cumulative total stands at 7,233, 87 below average.

Peak Gust

The wind prevailed from the northeast at an average speed of 8.6 m.p.h. The peak gust of 41 m.p.h. occurred on the 18th of April. One thunderstorm was observed on the 9th. There were 10 each of cloudy days, partly cloudy days, and clear days.

The mean temperature in May can be expected to increase from 53 degrees at the beginning of the month to 63 degrees at the end. May normals for Appleton include a mean temperature of 56.5 degrees and 3 inches of precipitation.

OSU Forms Chapter Of National Spanish Studies Honor Society

The youths are Kitty N. Huebner, 1428 Apple Creek Road; Dennis L. Meredith, 806 Bell Ave., and Sue E. Tuckis, 940 E. Eldorado St.

The OSU chapter, ETA Sigma, will be installed at the university May 12 in ceremonies at Reeve Memorial Union.

The national society, the only one devoted entirely to students of Spanish, was founded in 1919 at the University of California-Berkeley. Establishing a chapter on a college or university campus, an OSU official said, encourages students to attain the highest level of knowledge and proficiency.

Appleton Girl at Lawrence Named To Honor Society

An Appleton senior at Lawrence University, Miss Nancy Jayne, is among the eight women who joined Mortar Board, a senior women's honorary, in traditional ceremonies Thursday at Memorial Chapel.

Miss Jayne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Jayne, 124 Baldwin Court. Also elected to the Iota chapter of the national Mortar Board society which honors leadership, scholarship and service were: Sue Anderson, Glen Ellyn, Ill.; Ann Elliott, St. Paul, Minn.; Brenda Griffith, Libby, Mont.; Sue Kraebien, Mequon, Wis.; Carol Middleton, Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Marion Paris, New Albany, Ind.; and Phyllis Moore, Oconomowoc.

Miss Jayne, an applied flute major in the Conservatory of Music, has been active in the concert band, the woodwind quartet and the orchestra. She has received the Pi Kappa Lambda freshman and sophomore prizes and has received high honors at Lawrence. She teaches both piano and flute. Miss Jayne will be the new treasurer of Mortar Board.

Deer Returns to Kimberly Park

KIMBERLY — Village police report that one of the deer released from pens at Sunset Point Park over the weekend has returned on its own, but the remaining animals still are loose.

A raccoon, also released, has taken up residence in a tree in the park and efforts are being made to lure him back to his cage. Vandalism cut the wires in the zoo area of the park and released all animals.

First Time in History

City Retains Air Rights Over Property Sold to Paint Firm

For the first time in modern history, the City of Appleton moved Wednesday night to retain the air rights over property it intends to sell.

The city council gave approval to the proposal of the city water department to sell the old gas plant building in the flats at 125 W. Water Street to Peerless Paint Manufacturing Co. for $55,000.

However, the sale will be subject to the city retaining an easement for the proposed new Oneida Street bridge, along with the air rights to accommodate the high-level structure to be built in the 1970's. Peerless Paint, located at 118 N. Bennett St., intends to put about $40,000 to $50,000 in the city-owned building to convert it into a manufacturing operation, according to Robert DeLand, water commission chairman.

The building was acquired by the city about four years ago in a land package transaction, plus cash, with the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co.

Water department officials said they had no present or future use for the building. However, some of the land was used for the water plant expansion.

Under the proposed sales agreement, Peerless will play $5,500 down, with the balance to be paid at the rate of $5,000 or more annually with an interest rate of 5.5 per cent per annum on the unpaid balance.

Revenue from the sale will be turned over to the Appleton Water Commission.

In other action, the city council:

—Purchased two 43,000 pound tandem chassis with tilt cab vehicles from Van Steen Motors, Inc., for $22,450. —Bought a diesel-powered street sweeper from Bruce Municipal Equipment, Inc., Milwaukee, for $13,008.

Paving Ordered —Ordered the paving of Linwood Avenue from Glendale Avenue to Brewster Street, and said land would be obtained to cut Linwood through to W. Wisconsin Avenue.

—Rezoned three lots abutting Sherman Place north of Franklin Street, from apartment residential to commercial (C-4).

—Appropriated $3,000 for emergency repairs at the Erb Park pool.

—Requested the board of education to submit a proposed new budget format to the school district fiscal control board.

—Introduced for the first time an ordinance calling for direct annexation of the city-owned, 95-acre Langedyke property in the town of Grand Chute. A previous annexation was voided by the court but since then boundary lines have been redrawn.

—Approved purchase of 28,000 cubic yards of crushed stone from Murphy Concrete Products Corp., Black Creek.

Paper Plane Air Battle

NORTHBRIDGE, Calif. (AP) — The air battle lasted three hours and occupied 196 professors and students of San Fernando Valley State College.

A plane put together by Mike Tharnow, 19, was the distance winner with a flight of 135 feet, 2 inches. The longest floater was Tim Wyndham's four inches of tissue, which stayed aloft 35 seconds.

The pilot of all the paper planes Wednesday was Doty Heitz, a 51-year-old coed and the only volunteer to climb to the top rung of the 30-foot ladder.

OSU Forms Chapter Of National Spanish Studies Honor Society

OSHKOSH — Three Appleton youths are among the 12 charter members of the Oshkosh State University chapter of Sigma Delta Pi, national honor society for students of Spanish.

The youths are Kitty N. Huebner, 1428 Apple Creek Road; Dennis L. Meredith, 806 Bell Ave., and Sue E. Tuckis, 940 E. Eldorado St.

The OSU chapter, ETA Sigma, will be installed at the university May 12 in ceremonies at Reeve Memorial Union.

The national society, the only one devoted entirely to students of Spanish, was founded in 1919 at the University of California-Berkeley. Establishing a chapter on a college or university campus, an OSU official said, encourages students to attain the highest level of knowledge and proficiency.

4-H Agent Gets State Posts

Association Elects William Shaw at Meeting in LaCrosse

William Shaw, Outagamie County University extension 4-H and youth agent has been elected secretary of the Wisconsin Association of Extension and 4-H youth agents.

He also was named coordinator of the northeast district 4-H and youth activities at the annual association meeting recently in LaCrosse.

Shaw will serve in the posts for two years. Bernard Murray, 4-H and youth agent in Brown County, formerly held the posts. Shaw has been Outagamie 4-H and Youth Agent since June 1968. He previously taught vocational agriculture at Bear Creek High School. He graduated from River Falls State University in 1960.

County Leaders Meet at Camp Tapawingo

Eight Outagamie County volunteer 4-H adult leaders are attending the annual Northeastern Wisconsin 4-H adult Leaders Conference at Camp Tapawingo in Manitowoc County today and Saturday.

Lambs weighing from 90-100 pounds live weight and giving 70 per cent of the carcass weight in preferred cuts are what consumers want. These lambs will provide a 2½ square inch loin and a wide, deep and heavily muscled leg.

The schedule of lamb pool dates is available here at the university extension office.

Custom work throughout the entire area is becoming increasingly important. The scarcity of labor and increased wage rates has required many farmers to invest in bigger and more expensive machines to do their work.

Farmers with small or medium size acreages are faced with the decision of whether to invest in costly machines and do some custom work or to hire custom machines to do his mass clusters and dead larvae work. In either case, the goal is to keep the investment and operating expense per acre as low as possible.

Rates of custom work have been tabulated from information received from over a thousand farmers and customs operators throughout Wisconsin. A guide has been developed for geographic areas of Wisconsin and is available through our office. The guide can help you determine the rate to pay or charge for many different specific farm operations involving machinery.

The application of anhydrous ammonia and ammonia solutions is becoming fairly commonplace. Application must be below soil surface to minimize the loss of ammonia.

Under most conditions the anhydrous ammonia should be at least 8 to 10 inches deep and 4-H and youth agent in Brown County, formerly held the posts. Shaw has been Outagamie 4-H and Youth Agent since June 1968. He previously taught vocational agriculture at Bear Creek High School. He graduated from River Falls State University in 1960.

Michigan Offers Veterinary School Admissions to State

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Veterinary medicine students from Wisconsin may be allowed easier access to studies at Michigan State University because of problems in administering the higher education compact between the two states.

The compact, which allows college students from Northern Wisconsin and the Upper Peninsula across the state border to attend selected schools without paying nonresident tuition, has been working out to be a boon to Michigan residents.

During the present academic year, 100 Upper Peninsula students are traveling south to attend classes at the Marquette County campus of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, without paying higher out-of-state tuition charges.

Same Fees
Instead, they pay the same fees charged Wisconsin residents.

In return, Wisconsin students from the northern tier of counties are allowed to travel to the Gogebic and Bay de Noc junior colleges in Ironwood and Escanaba and pay Michigan's in-state student rates.

But only 57 Wisconsin students are attending the schools, despite earlier expectations that the interstate travel would effectively balance the costs of the two states.

Michigan authorities, says Angus Rothwell, head of the Wisconsin Coordinating Council for Higher Education (CCH), program is to be offered. It should be added to the agricultural school in Madison.

Funds for studies of such work out of the office. Meat inspection headquarters will also be merged at Eau Claire, Milwaukee and Madison. Dr. E. D. Baker, head of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, said when office mergers are completed state and federal inspectors will work jointly at both state and federally inspected meat plants.

That program would be open to students from throughout Wisconsin if it is accepted, according to Rothwell.

Other proposals previously made include cash payments from Michigan to Wisconsin for the benefits for the students of the depressed Upper Peninsula. The veterinary medicine program is expected to be treated with interest because of feuding between educational systems in Wisconsin and within the legislature over veterinary medicine needs in the state.

Meat Inspection Agencies To Combine at Green Bay

State and federal meat inspection offices will be combined at Green Bay as part of a new state-federal meat inspection agreement.

Dr. F. A. Allie, state area coordinator, and Dr. Claude Dr. Glotfelty will be in charge of all federal meat and poultry inspection in the state with a program utilizing more than 200 inspectors at 90 plants. The state inspects meat and poultry at 330 meat establishments with 100 employees.

Meat inspection headquarters will also be merged at Eau Claire, Milwaukee and Madison. Dr. E. D. Baker, head of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, said when office mergers are completed state and federal inspectors will work jointly at both state and federally inspected meat plants. ## What's wrong with a Chevy having a VW guarantee?

If a car's good enough to pass the VW 16-point safety and performance test it's good enough.

It gets our 100% guarantee that we'll repair or replace all major mechanical parts for 30 days or 1000 miles, whichever comes first.

We'd do the same for any make trade-in. Even an Edsel. Provided nothing wrong with it.

Your Money's Worth Medicare, Medicaid Costs Can be Slashed

BY SYLVIA PORTER

A major expansion in Social Security benefits is a virtual certainty next year, and part of this almost surely will be a broadening of Medicare-Medicaid. Suggested are: addition to Medicare benefits of prescription drugs and annual physical exams; elimination of Medicare's burdensome deductibles and co-insurance features; inclusion of disabled Americans of all ages in the program.

Q. But how could we possibly pay for a drastic escalation of Medicare services—when Medicare costs are multiplying even without any expansion of services and when the costs of medical care services are climbing two to three times as fast as the overall cost of living?

A. From Dr. Caldwell B. Esselstyn, Director of Emergency Medical Services, New York State Department of Health: "We already know how to effect savings which would make almost total medical coverage possible at no increase in cost, or save literally billions of dollars in the Medicare program with existing benefits." Specifically:

Reduce 'Piecemeal'
—Eliminate, or at least curtail, our present system of paying individual physicians and surgeons in solo practice on a fee-for-service basis. As Esselstyn told a recent meeting of the National Council on the Aging, "Fee for service or piecemeal was invented as an incentive to encourage the production of more pieces."

—Encourage in its place group prepaid medical practice in which you (or your employer) simply pay a flat annual fee to a group of salaried medical specialists and general practitioners in return for comprehensive health services both in and out of the hospital. The group thus makes money if you stay well and loses money if you get sick—in sharp contrast to the fee-for-service piecemeal idea.

—Emphasize lower-cost alternatives to hospitalization which are now mostly ignored. For instance, include as covered benefits extensive out-patient diagnostic and mental health services, the services of clinical psychologists, occupational therapists, social workers, etc.

A recent study of a United Mine Workers program—in which salaried physicians replaced fee-for-service solo doctors—disclosed that after the switchover, the rate of appendectomies fell nearly 60 per cent. A major survey of the Federal Employees Health Benefits Program showed that hospital use was only half as great for prepaid group practice beneficiaries as for those protected by Blue Cross-Blue Shield type plans encouraging hospital over-use. A study of a large number of over-65 individuals under Michigan Blue Cross and under the Community Health Association of Detroit, concluded that in the latter non-profit group practice prepayment plan, beneficiaries were hospitalized an average of only 2.5 days a year vs. 4 days a year for the Blue Cross beneficiaries.

If these savings could be duplicated by the Medicare hospital insurance program, annual savings would reach a staggering $1.9 billion, Esselstyn calculates—and the savings could be extended to other Medicare-Medicaid programs and private medical care.

The accusation is clear: Medicare is actually prohibiting such savings as this by its complicated reimbursement rules, its built-in financial obstacles to preventive medicine, its downgrading of less expensive out-of-hospital services.

Since Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the House Ways & Means Committee, has "decreed" no new Social Security bill until 1970—and then a big one—these are the months when the most intensive research should be devoted to ways to cut medical care costs while increasing medical care services for the elderly.

To Your Good Health Children's Appetite, Growth Spurt Together

BY GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How much milk should a child of 3 get? Since she has been off the bottle, she doesn't seem to drink very much. Does she get the required nutrition from other foods? She is a small eater.

—Mrs. G.F.

Dr. Thosteson

Youngsters are apt to be finicky eaters at age 3 — not that all of them are, of course.

But when they are small eaters at that age, and there is no physical condition bothering them, you find that they change their eating habits when a growth spurt occurs.

Children, you know, grow in spurts. They seem to show little growth for a time, then grow inches in a short time, then slow down again for a time. These growth spurts require food — so presto! The appetite improves.

Even so, you should try to get the little girl to drink (or otherwise get) at least three cups of milk a day. Don't give the milk between meals, as it may dull her appetite.

It isn't necessarily required that she drink the milk, because you can keep track of how much she is getting with her cereal, in puddings, and in bread. She needs the milk because of the generous amount of calcium in it, which helps build good bones.

While she is at this light-eating stage, your pediatrician may suggest giving a vitamin supplement.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am trying the grapefruit diet plan in which you are supposed to lose 10 pounds in 10 days. It requires no eating of foods containing sugar, starch, or flour, would this affect the diet plan? Is this a healthy plan to follow? —L.V.S.

ing in his breasts filling out to female size.

My wife is 48. We have an exceptionally fine sex relationship but her breasts are hardly developed at all. If female sex hormone will develop a male, will it not also develop a female?—I.D.

Sorry, but no. Your wife, being a woman to start with, has her normal share of female hormones. Giving her more of them will not change her physical build — some have large breasts and some small, but they all have the hormones natural for their sex.

In the instances in which men are given (deliberately or accidentally) female hormones, it is considerably an overstatement to say the breasts "fill out to female size." They do develop somewhat, sometimes to an embarrassing degree, but not to the extent you state. And in men, just as in women, the breast size will vary considerably under such circumstances.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is enlarged prostate caused by excessive masturbation or intercourse. If so, should not our youth be frankly informed? —A.R.W.

Neither has any effect on prostate enlargement.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Electricians 'Huckstered' on Conradt Bill, Rogers Charges

Lawmakers Implicated in Deceit Attempt in Complaint to Warren

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Assemblyman William Rogers, D-Kaukauna, led seven state lawmakers Thursday in protesting to Wisconsin's attorney general that "huckstering" is taking place in backing of an electrician's licensing bill authored by Assemblyman Ervin Conradt, R-Shiocton.

"I personally do not have the qualifications to charge extortion, but this is, in my opinion, a clear case of modern day huckstering," said Rogers in his protest to Atty. Gen. Robert W. Warren.

Rogers signed the letter of protest with the six other Democratic assemblymen, and said: "The fact that there is a strong implication that a fellow legislator has joined in this effort to collect monies from these people who do not fully understand the legislative process adds more concern."

Area Lawmakers
Among the co-authors of the bill with Conradt are several Northeastern Wisconsin lawmakers, including Assemblymen Milton McDougall, R-Oconto Falls and Francis Byers, R-Marion, and Sens. Reuben LaFave, R-Oconto and Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek.

The bill proposed would create an electricians' licensing requirement, set up a state board to administer it, and create a "grandfather clause" permitting many persons now doing such work to be licensed without examination.

Rogers sent to Warren a copy of a circular being distributed to electrical contractors in the state by the new Wisconsin Electricians and Electrical Contractors Association, of which Howard Hazen formerly of Manawa, is executive director.

Not a Lobbyist
Hazen is not registered with the secretary of state as a lobbyist.

The cover sheet on a questionnaire circulated informs its recipients that:

"A legislative bill has been jacketed for the 1969 session of the legislature to license all electricians and state inspection of all electrical work."

"This bill will become law in 1969."

"If you wish to continue as an electrician without having to pass a state examination for a statewide license — you may qualify under the 'grandfather act.'"

One Meeting
"Only one (1) meeting will be held in your area — make sure you attend and register."

Hazen's name appears on the cover sheet, and on the questionnaire which accompanies it. It allows the recipients to legislator legally tell people before the legislation has been written or introduced that it will become law?"

The material Rogers sent Warren was dated March 6; the bill was introduced in the legislature last week.

The letter asked Warren to suggest corrective measures of actions of the attorney general's office which might be taken in light of the charges.

Co-authors of the Conradt bill besides those mentioned are Kyle Kenyon, R-Tomah, William Atkinson, D-South Milwaukee, Arthur Cirilli, R-Superior, and Chester Dempsey, R-Hartland.

The students are limited to 250 trees per student for use as forest planting and wind breaks.

Lack of Funds Delays Park Swimming Lake

KIMBERLY — The swimming lake being developed at Sunset Point Park will not be ready for use this summer as originally planned because of a delay in receipt of federal aid, according to Village President Alvin Fulcer.

The village has applied for about $47,000 in aid for development of the lake. Approval is expected by early July. Once a project is started, a community does not qualify for aid and must assume the entire cost.

Fulcer said, explaining why work is being delayed. The village now could fill the lake with water, but could not develop the parking area, landscape the grounds or construct a bathhouse without jeopardizing the aid application. Then, a fence could not be constructed around the area creating an extremely hazardous situation, Fulcer noted.

Arrangements have been made with Kimberly-Clark Corp. to again operate the swimming pool on Main Street as in the past, with the corporation to furnish life guards and attendants. The village will reimburse the corporation for cost of attendants, expected to be about $5,000.

Plans and specifications are completed for the swimming lake and it is expected bids will be asked about the middle of July or early in August after the federal aid request is approved.

This would make possible the start of construction and other work late this summer and with completion in early spring of 1970, including parking, bathhouse, landscaping and all other aspects of the project, said Fulcer.

Water, Sewer Projects

Fox Valley May Feel Cut in Federal Funds

MENASHA — Several small Fox Valley communities apparently will not get the federal aid they are expecting for solving their sewer and water problems, it was learned Tuesday.

Thomas Pattison, state director of the Farmers Home Administration (FHA), said that fiscal 1970 federal funds probably would be cut about 40 per cent if the President's proposed budget goes through.

"We don't have a third enough money to meet the needs in both grants and loans," he warned of fiscal 1969.

He said that he had "serious doubts" that communities in the Fox Cities area would have adequate funding from the federal government.

Small Communities
FHA is the chief grantor of aid to communities under 5,000 population, many with neither central water nor sewer facilities. Wisconsin had about $10 million in FHA funds this fiscal year.

Pattison indicated that if the cuts go through, his program would be cut about 40 per cent. This would mean his agency would have to stick closer to priorities based on need and ability to pay.

However, he noted that if certain communities showed aggressive local action, they might have a chance for FHA funds.

The Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, under Frank Hedgecock, chief planner, has been developing a comprehensive plan on the needs and estimated costs for meeting individual communities' needs. Some area communities

Finding Answers Is Better Than Facing Demands

BY DENNIS J. SORENSEN
Associated Press Writer

Black students are becoming more militant in many places in pressing their demands on university administrators, but most of Wisconsin's private colleges have maintained order and high academic standards, while satisfying needs.

At Beloit College and Marquette University, where race-connected problems did arise, relative harmony was reached

Students recently asked the administration to include more Negro studies in the curriculum and increase the enrollment of black students.

4 New Courses
The school, according to President Curtis W. Tarr, already had initiated plans for the inclusion of black-related courses and plans to increase black student enrollment next fall. The school, shortly after the requests were made, announced the addition of four new courses in black studies to the four already being taught.

Plans are underway to investigate the possibility of establishing a black cultural center, Tarr added, and the administration has agreed to serve special food in the dining hall for black students.

St. Norbert College in De Pere has a third-term enrollment of 1,600 students, including just a handful of Negroes. Despite the small number of black students, though, there are several courses focused on the Negro. One is on racism, one on urban problems and one on American Negro history.

White students have been assigned to dormitory rooms with Negro students, and there have been no complaints. Some white students have asked to be put with a Negro roommate, said the Rev. George O'Brien, dean of men.

Blacks Recruited
There are 22 Negro students at Carroll College in Waukesha, not counting several from African countries. Total enrollment is about 1,100.

Black students were largely recruited and the present Negro enrollment figure is double last year's. Dr. John Middaugh, school president, said the school anticipates "as much as a 50 per cent increase next year."

Negro students at Carroll asked that a credit black history course be taught in the fall. It will be.

"Because everyone is accessible, we don't confront, we consult," said Middaugh, in explaining the lack of uprisings on his campus.

About 3 per cent of the 700 students at Northland College in

At Edgewood, a Catholic college of 683 students in Madison, there are 11 Negroes who "work harder than most students" according to John Butler, director of planning and development.

Butler said the students have made no requests, but a history

The Post-Crescent A 6
Friday, May 9, 1969

Ashland are Negroes. The black students have an organization called the Black Liberating Organization on Campus (BLOC), which is a recognized college social group. A plan also has been instituted whereby students, including Negroes, sit in on all faculty committee meetings.

Gripes Are Aired

Dr. Don Skinner, a chaplain at the school, said the general policy supported by the administration "is that any legitimate gripe is aired. We are in constant conversation. We never outlaw a request from students just because it comes from students. You never have to have an overt confrontation as an outlet for frustration. We just give the students a meaningful voice in the running of their own affairs."

Skinner said there have been no demands from Negro students "because we have tried to work them into the university as soon as they arrived."

There have been several changes in curriculum to accommodate Negro students, "not by virtue of demands," Skinner said, "just by virtue of response."

Response without request, consultation without confrontation, and students who request without demanding seem to be the major ingredients for campus tranquility.

Private colleges, as a student at Lakeland put it, are, "small enough for feeling."

Some feel and some, apparently, do not.

Wisconsin's private schools have found and have demonstrated that the first way is better.

Clintonville Being Totally Reassessed

CLINTONVILLE — James Lindow, city assessor-treasurer, is in the process of making a complete reassessment of residential land in the city, which he intends to have finished before the board of review meets in August.

He has raised the assessments of some 400 of the 2,000 parcels of residential land in the city and notices of the raise have been mailed to 260 of the landowners.

With the notices, Lindow has been including an explanatory note that states, "The increase in land value represents a total re-valuation of the complete city's land values."

"In establishing new land values, consideration was given to the time element of 15 years since the last revaluation, vacant land sales of over 100 in the last three years, opinions of various city appraisers, residual approach on land and improvement sales, State Department of Revenue equalized values on land in comparison to assessments, zoning requirements, and in some areas — various street improvements."

Eliminate Inequity

Lindow said that he is trying to eliminate as much inequity in land assessments as he can. He said that the state's "equalized full valuation" of Clintonville for 1969 of residential land is $3,932,600, an increase of $1,408,700 over last year; and that if he left assessments as they are, he would be assessing land at only 37 per cent of full value.

No similar raise was made in the value of improvements by the state. In that category, values were raised $738,700 to $10,265,610.

Lindow stated that unless there is an increase in land assessments, vacant land will be paying less than its share of taxes. Improvements on land were assessed at 81 per cent of full value last year.

Lindow stressed that he is trying to make all the property taxing fair. He cited that land in good subdivision areas is selling for up to $27 a front foot — it is currently assessed at $12 a foot.

Adults Attend Youth Workshop to Launch Boy Scouting Program

CLINTONVILLE — Fifteen adults attended a boys and youth workshop for youth leaders, scoutmasters, 4-H directors and churchmen officials from eastern Wisconsin Sunday afternoon in Christ Lutheran Church.

The event was sponsored by the American Lutheran Church Men of the Northern District. Jake Bostrom, Menominee, the North District Boys' work director, conducted the clinic. Representatives were present from the Wausau, Green Bay and Appleton conferences. The hope is to get a boys and youth work director for each one of these conferences and to set up a committee on scouting to direct these men, according to John Kaphingst, Clintonville scoutmaster, who was in charge of arrangements.

Council Discusses Costs

Test Drill Planned for Marion Pond Project

MARION — Costs of the Marion Pond renovation project were discussed at the city council meeting this week by Martin Lutzewitz, who heads the pond committee, and Ed Brick and Tom Werth of the State Department of Natural Resources.

An estimate of $11,000 was given as a maximum price for fixing the dam, but council members, considering contracting figures, felt this could be cut considerably.

All agreed that before an exact cost can be determined, a test drill will have to be taken to determine what is underneath the cement spillway. Lutzewitz and Jim Knitt, will make the test within the next few days.

It was determined that the dam will have to be lowered four feet in front and tapered off to enable the pond to be drained.

Present plans call for scooping off at least a foot of sediment from the bottom of the pond, laying black plastic sheeting over the sand bottom, and covering this with gravel and sand.

Some concern was voiced as to whether the $75,000 allocated for the two-year project would be sufficient, but Werth and

107-Member Research Group to Redirect Emphasis of Program

A major reorganization of The Institute of Paper Chemistry's (IPC) 107-member research staff was announced Thursday by John G. Strange, Institute president, in his annual report.

In the reorganization, the last week created four new research divisions, including the division of industrial and environmental systems, Strange indicated in his report given today to over 300 paper industry officials attending the 33rd annual Conference.

Under the new system, research problems will be looked at with a broader view and in relation to other fields of concern in the same division. A scientific research program, for example, may be concentrated on water pollution but air pollution and use of computers would be tied in with the analysis.

The new system transcends the artificial division caused by the academic disciplines and brings biologists, chemists and other experts of other research areas into the study of one specific field.

Systems Approach

Noting the systems approach has spread spectacularly within the past few years, Strange said: "When a problem cuts across several fields or groups of people, and most of them do nowadays, structuring can be vital to sensible progress."

The other new divisions, Strange said, are materials engineering and processes, natural materials and systems, and informational services. An existing container section has been maintained.

The reorganization will not affect the Institute's 51-member faculty and its five instructional departments.

There will be no changes in the research staff but its approach to problems brought to it by industries will be altered.

Panel Discussion

A panel of four Institute researchers discussed the systems approach this afternoon in a conference session. They pointed out the approach is gaining much attention in the field of scientific research.

They also said the approach relies heavily on modern computers and the construction of mathematic models. A valid model can be experimentally treated by a computer, and the resulting information can be received faster and less expensively than under old methods.

Strange said the reorganization came only after "a rather intensive self-examination" of the need to attack individual problems but relate them to other fields.

"From a (research) managerial standpoint, our constant challenge as an institution is to find more adequate ways of relating our particular systems and goals to those that (industry and) society in general seem to be developing," he added.

New Nomenclature

Strange also noted that new nomenclature to better relate the institution to the outside world was being adopted. He said the "former nomenclature is archaic for research purposes."

He noted there are plans for another building, a continuing education center.

Supervisors' Resolution Opposes Safety Building

Remodeling Sought for County Jail

Ten Outagamie County supervisors submitted a resolution to the county clerk's office this week that would end efforts for the proposed joint city-county safety building.

The supervisors urge the county board to proceed with plans for remodeling the present county jail facilities, which is the county's alternative to a joint safety building. They contend the cost of the joint venture "is prohibitive."

Supv. George Kroes, of the towns of Buchanan and Kaukauna, said the 10 were spurred also by the warning issued this week by the State Department of Health and Social Services that the county had not met requests of the state which were tied to a 90-day extension for remodeling the jail. The jail will be closed if improvements are not made, the county has been told.

However, Kroes noted that it is time for the county board face the question of whether it wants to proceed on a joint venture.

Have to Move

"We've got to move one way or another," he said, noting he felt the resolution had a "good chance" of passing, thereby killing hopes for a joint safety building.

The county board has wavered on proceeding on a joint venture in recent weeks, and in its most recent action, it withdrew its agreement to proceed on a joint venture until definite cost figures could be acquired. A special committee is seeking appraisals and options for the 15 properties located north of the courthouse where the facility would be located.

A report this week indicated the price might be about $360,000 over $160,000 more than it was originally estimated.

The 10 supervisors, including one from Appleton, urged in their resolution that "in the interest of economy and expeditious and speeding compliance with the order of the State Department of Health and Social Services, the present jail facilities should be at once improved."

Youth's Wound Is Accidental, Police Rule

CHILTON — The shotgun blast that wounded William Hephner, 19, 31A Mill St., in the left arm Monday night was ruled accidental Wednesday afternoon after he was questioned by police.

Police said that Hephner had gone to his room about 10:30 p.m. to clean his .12 gauge shotgun after the Lewland Olson family, with whom he lives had retired. Police said the gun accidentally discharged.

The family heard the shot and found Hephner standing in the kitchen with his arm bleeding. He was taken to Calumet Memorial Hospital by ambulance and underwent emergency surgery which delayed the questioning until Wednesday.

Hospital authorities said he is in fair condition.

Non-Violent Demonstration Fast at Lawrence Will Protest Vietnam War

Lawrence University students and faculty members who will participate in the 48-hour fast this weekend in protest of the Vietnam war chose to fast because it is the only action open to communities which is both non-violent and non-disruptive, organizers of the demonstration said.

The fast will be held in front of the Lawrence Memorial Chapel from 5 p.m. Friday to 5 p.m. Sunday. Spokesmen for the demonstration indicated that nearly 90 members of the university community have committed themselves to participate in the fast.

Also, the organizers said at least 40 students plan to camp out in front of the chapel during the fast.

Mostly Upperclassmen

The organizers represent a varied cross-section of students. The majority of those committed to fast are upperclassmen. Fourteen freshmen are committed for the full 48 hours.

"Everyone, regardless of convictions," has been urged to "come and discuss the issue at any hour with those who are fasting," the organizers said.

Among those planning to fast is J. Samuel Ray, president of the Lawrence University Community Council. Discussion participants include Edward J. Moody, instructor in anthropology; William S. Boardman, assistant professor of philosophy; Donald S. Klinefelter, assistant professor of religion; and Joseph H. Marchal, instructor in philosophy.

A partial schedule of events also includes poetry reading at Raymond House at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, and a free university course, "Ethics and Political Action," at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

to be "taught" by students Jim Noble and Mark Bigelow; Sunday highlights includes a peace vigil at 2 p.m. and first meal for those who fasted at 5 p.m.

Literature also will be available concerning the military-industrial complex, ROTC, the draft and conscientious objection to the war.

One of the organizers said the demonstration was proposed to foster discussion of the war and to demonstrate the existence of "a concerned community."

"The city of Appleton and the Lawrence community have remained silent in the face of an increasingly bloody and futile war. Like most Americans, we have tended to accept without examination the argument that American involvement is inevitable and just in any war that opposes non-democratic forms of government in foreign countries, in total disregard of the principle of national self-determination," the organizers stated.

Clintonville Project Keeps High Priority

CLINTONVILLE — The city's possibility for a 60-unit apartment project for elderly persons "looks pretty good and still has good priority," according to Arthur Kaphingst, president of the Clintonville Housing Authority.

Kaphingst made the report at a meeting Wednesday night. He said a complete listing is now being prepared of the 125 applications it had on file. This information will be sent to the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) which is expected to finance the project.

He said that he had a telephone conversation Thursday with the Chicago office of HUD, and that following receipt of the information, HUD will reply within the next two or three weeks with a final answer.

Youth, Who Took 25 Checks, Placed Under Supervision for Year

A 15-year-old southside Appleton youth who hid in a Valley Fair Shopping Center store until after it closed then fled with 25 checks which he later cashed, was placed on one year's supervision this week in Outagamie County Juvenile Court.

Judge Raymond P. Dohr withheld a delinquency finding against the youth and placed him under the supervision of the county department of health and social services.

Appleton and Winnebago county authorities said the youth stole the checks from the W. T. Grant store on Feb. 7. Authorities were alerted by a person who saw the youth leave the rear of the store.

Police said the boy issued three forged $40 checks which he took from the store. The were cashed at an Appleton drug store and two Appleton super markets on Feb. 7, 8, and 11. Dohr ordered the youth to make $120 restitution for the bad checks.

Authorities said the youth was taken into custody when he attempted to cash one of the stolen checks at a Town of Menasha department store.

July 4 Celebration

Waupaca Plans 'Hometown Day'

WAUPACA — What's your leisure? The question was posed by the Jaycees Wednesday at the first planning session for the July 4 celebration.

A chicken barbecue will be served throughout the day, until 5 p.m., by the Lions Club. From 5 to 11 p.m. there will be food and refreshment at a stand operated by the sponsors of the day's activities.

The fireworks display will be touched off at 9:30 p.m. It is believed, be more spectacular than it has ever been, since the display will be over the lake. The police and firemen are in charge of the pyrotechnics. There also will be a log rolling contest and kiddie parade.

The groups will each have a concession at the park, everything from ice cream cones to a dunking tank. They will be manned by the Barbershoppers, Monday Night Club, People-to-People, city police, police auxiliary, Jaycees, Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, American Legion Auxiliary, Chamber of Commerce and the firemen.

Plans will be completed at 7:30 p.m. May 21 when the clubs and other interested persons meet at city hall.

Stability of Regents Threatened

For 30 years Wisconsin has had a law giving regents of the University of Wisconsin the longest terms of any appointive officers of its state government.

There are nine appointed members of the board which governs the growing University of Wisconsin system. Each is appointed to a nine-year term. And the state superintendent of public instruction serves ex officio during his four-year term of office.

The regents' terms are staggered, with one expiring each year. Thus in the normal course of events, a governor has had only two appointments to the board during an elective gubernatorial term. To acquire control of the board through his own nominations, he has usually been required under the two-year terms provided for his office to win election three consecutive times.

That impediment to hasty or abrupt changes in the political orientation of the board was created by the Legislature in 1939. That Legislature reorganized the university's governing machinery in revulsion against the dismissal of the late President Glenn Frank by a board which reflected the wishes of the late Gov. Philip F. LaFollette. Dr. Frank was given a "trial" by a LaFollette-controlled board, but the proceedings became notorious, and attracted alarmed attention throughout the country. The move to restore order and

These recollections are stirred by the introduction into the present Legislature of a bill to reduce the term of the regents to five years. The bill's authors include some of the most prominent men of the Republican majority as well as one stalwart Democrat. But none of these men served in the Legislature 30 years ago and it is conceivable that they are not aware of the purpose of the long and staggered terms.

Remembering that the state constitution has been amended to give our governors four-year tenure starting in 1970, a five-year term for regents would make it possible for a two-term governor to assure himself of control of the board early after his second election. It is probable that he could secure a majority of like-minded men and women in his first term, since retirements and vacancies resulting from other causes are fairly frequent on the board.

The authors of the tenure change doubtless will reveal their reasoning and their purposes when the five-year term bill comes to a hearing. Meanwhile, the people of Wisconsin should be aware that their bill contains the means for overturning a long continued practice of insulating the university's overseers from the ebb and flow of political struggles and party purposes.

Our Hero 'Intimidates' Train

Walter Brisebois is a Walter Mitty in the flesh. But because of his heroics, he will be tried by authorities in Windsor, Ontario on a charge of "intimidating" a train.

Our hero took matters into his own hands recently after waiting 18 minutes for a train to pass a road crossing while he simmered in his car. Brisebois then simply drove his car on the tracks, left it there and waited. Investigating police officers learned that the irate driver planned to hold up the next train 18 minutes in retribution for his wait. He was arrested on the misdemeanor.

Women Voters' Stand Refreshing

The League of Women Voters of Wisconsin cannot be accused of being an obstructive or reactionary organization. Indeed, it is more likely that the ladies of the league have frequently taken positions that many of their husbands have viewed with some dismay.

It was refreshing, therefore, that the Wisconsin league has notified the Legislature that it does not support the repetitious proposal of some younger Milwaukee Democratic assemblymen for the complete rewriting of the state constitution of 1848.

Mrs. John Toussaint, league representative at a committee hearing recently, expressed the view repeatedly declared here over the years — that the people of Wisconsin have shown a striking capacity for accepting or rejecting selective amendments on issues of constitutional change.

Under such circumstances, she might have added, calling a constitutional convention only to eliminate a few archaic provisions — the rule against dueling is a favorite example of the critics — would be a million dollar waste of the people's money.

One of the most persistent proponents of such a convention is Assemblyman Frederick Kessler, a Milwaukee Democrat, one of the younger members of the house. Perhaps Mr. Kessler is acting with an eye to publicity, for it is unlikely that anyone in his home district is so offended by his so far futile proposals that he will be hurt politically. Meanwhile, he can enjoy the posture of constitutional scholar, thin as his credentials appear to be on the record.

At the hearing at which Mrs. Toussaint made her effective objection, Mr. Kessler attempted to argue that the voters' willingness in recent years to vote approvingly on separate constitutional changes shows they are willing to change the basic law of Wisconsin.

But what is Mr. Kessler suggesting specifically, that has not yet been brought up and voted upon in separate propositions? He has failed to say. Evidently this confident young man is persuaded that what is old should be junked, on the basis of its age only. Does he feel the same about the even older United States Constitution?

Let Mr. Kessler have his little game of collecting press clippings. The Legislature, we are glad to note, has repeatedly turned a deaf ear to these critics. Let us hope that it will continue to do so. Let the people continue to show their ability and willingness to consider carefully and sort out such separate and legitimate proposals for constitutional change that are submitted to them.

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for May 15, 1869.

The smaller grains have nearly all been sown in this county (O u t a g a m i e), and many wheat fields already have the green look.

The fine rains are bringing everything forward with amazing rapidity. The wheat that is up is splendid in color, and gives every promise of a good crop.

Every farmer who can do so should sow a large breadth of oats and a good field of beans. Diversify your crops, because wheat will certainly bring — from present prospects — a very low price.

YAF Supporter's Reasoning Called Stupid by Nordlander

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

In his letter of May 4 which was published in this space, John C. Tilley presented the views of an ultra-reactionary organization of youthful politicians known as Young Americans for Freedom. In the course of his letter he presented his organization as being the alternative to the anarcho-syndicalist elements that are wrecking our universities today. If he wishes to believe that he is certainly entitled to his opinion and should express his opinion in public. What "bugged" me about his epistle was his mention of my name at the end of his epistle and the name of the Socialist Labor Party of America thus implying that the views of this writer and the views of the SLP are the same as those of the people against whom Mr. Tilley feels so morally indignant.

It was also resentful of the slur against my patriotism. Mr. Tilley implied that patriotism and a concern for the future of the human race were incompatible, taking the stupid headline that was appended to my letter as the basis for his slur. I deny that Mr. Tilley's love for his country is any greater than mine. The difference between his patriotism and mine is that his is the unreasoning stupid kind that blindly supports the political leaders whenever they decide to go to war and support the threatened interests of the capitalist class, the people who own the productive property of

Public Backs U. S. Supreme Court Reform to Protect Injured Parties

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

As President Nixon scans the spectrum for a new chief justice of the Supreme Court he has solid public support behind him. And, contrary to some belief, the Supreme Court is not always indifferent to a President's inclinations.

In 1937 Franklin D. Roosevelt proposed his Supreme Court "packing" plan — designed to add six justices of his own choosing — but this effort was defeated by Congress, which reflected the public resentment. Yet the same year the Court upheld the constitutionally doubtful Wagner Labor Relations Act. Most

Supreme Court consistently forget Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes' indisputable maxim: "Above all rights rise the rights of the community." Listen to Pennsylvania Chief Justice John C. Bell: "The Supreme Court's decisions which shackle the police and courts make it terrifically difficult to protect society from crime and criminals and are among the principal reasons for the turmoil and near-revolutionary conditions."

Are the "rights" of the troublemakers more important than the sufferers?

The prevailing fear is that the Supreme Court's continued twisting of the Constitution and the statutes is making a shambles of government by law in our country. The end product pursued for welfare state purposes, and civil rights within it, can only be anarchy — with the consequent loss of the freedoms which are the supposed goal of judicial law-making.

PEOPLE NOT ALIKE

The fundamental belief on which the United States was founded, and which still stands, is that men and women need not be victims. Here life, security and a better living for all are problems to be mastered. But the public simply refuses to concur with the sick sentimentality that condones criminality as society's fault and dismisses the individual from responsibility — an important false reading of human nature.

Yes, we do discriminate. But this is not necessarily a hostile act "Discriminate," explains Webster: "To make a distinction; also to use discernment." The argument of the egalitarian always claims that everybody is exactly like everybody else. The argument is manifestly untrue. You and I are not exactly alike, which does not mean that either of us is better. It simply means that we are different. The Swedish are not exactly like the Mexicans, and, it might be added, women are not exactly like men. The entire process of life admittedly works to the many individuals and groups unlike.

There is much we can do to make this land of ours richer and better for all the people. But there can be no suitable and successful Supreme Court that ignores the realities, manhandles the First and Fifth amendments, writes its own majority's social and economic views into the law and, in effect, legislates as if it were a legislative body itself.

Millions feel that the court has leaned over backwards in behalf of criminals and shown much more concern for the felons than for the community. Why, they ask, does the

Little Known Entrant In State School Race Could Have Succeeded

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — It is a healthful thing to have an occasional election of high public officials, not only for the replenishment of the idea of the people's responsibility for their own government, but as a reminder to commentators on public affairs about making assumptions about the voters' thinking.

These reflections are occasioned by a visit from Donald P. Schmitz, the hitherto little-known schoolman from distant Elmwood in Northwestern Wisconsin, who somewhat bravely, as it seemed at the time, challenged the re-election as state superintendent of public instruction of William C. Kahl five weeks ago.

Mr. Schmitz turned out to be a crisply tailored man of young middle-age. He called, he said, to get acquainted and to explain some of the problems of his campaign that he extenuation it may be said that the virtually silent character of the campaign permitted nobody to make an estimate of the results that even approximated the actual vote trend.

Mr. Schmitz carried 26 counties, including some of them so far removed from his own locality and his own circle of acquaintance to make it reasonable to suppose that his own efforts had very little to do with the fact.

Why should he carry such sizeable districts such as Racine and Waukesha counties? Urban counties as well as rural counties? Why should he miss carrying metropolitan Milwaukee County narrowly, when by his own admission he had only a nominal sum of campaign money and no chance to communicate effectively with the voters in such crucial localities?

A QUIET PROTEST?

It is tempting to conclude, bearing in mind the hazards of assumptions in these situations, that there was registered in this election a quiet protest against the educational establishment.

Mr. Kahl is probably as well suited to his job as most of his predecessors. Although he did not campaign widely, and perhaps is not as widely known as a personality as some of the men who held his office before him, he had the advantage of several years of incumbency, with the publicity and recognition by the huge educational community that followed. As far as the record shows, he handled his work prudently and conscientiously. Surely there was no issue raised against him that the average voter had noted.

But when the votes were counted, he had nosed out by a small percentage a man from one of the most remote sections of the state, virtually anonymous in the profession, who campaigned without machinery, publicity or money.

Is this another manifestation of the restiveness of the electorate that has been shown on other occasions, including the rejection of school bond issues, the unseating of judges and the upset election of a Democrat to Congress in a district so long thought secure by the Republicans?

Something is going on, it is clear.

Strictly Personal

Violent Minorities Can Accomplish Big Things

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

During the question period following a lecture of mine not long ago, a man in the audience stood up and asked the inevitable question: "Why do newspapers and other mass media give so much publicity to such things as college riots, when only a small minority of the students are actually involved in them?"

Now this is an absurd and thoughtless question, but it seems to reflect the attitude of the public, which assumes that if you pay no attention to problems, they will just clear up or go away by themselves. But if we treated our physical ailments the way we propose treating social ailments — by ignoring the symptoms — our mortality rate would soon show a shocking increase.

Moreover, the mere fact that a "minority" of students, or others, may be involved, is no indication of the seriousness of the problem. Almost all activities are begun and continued by minorities; the great majority is always passive, if not indifferent — this is why relatively small groups can accomplish such great changes.

Barely one per cent of the Russian people — mostly intellectuals and students rather than proletarians — brought about the Russian revolution. And the Nazis were always a "minority" in Germany, until it was too late to stop their push for power.

What is ironically amusing about this whole matter of "small minorities" is that most Americans have a distorted notion of our own fight for independence. They wrongly imagine that the great bulk of the colonists supported General Washington, but the truth is that at no time did a majority of people living here give active support to the Revolutionists — and the substantial, law-abiding, middle-class citizens were almost uniformly Tory in their sympathies!

Of course, not more than five or 10 per cent of college students are leaders of riots or demonstrations; not more than about the same per cent of blacks are militantly involved in urban struggles — yet many of the others will follow where they lead, or at least will not oppose their efforts.

Harris

The great mass of people are generally indifferent to what are called "mass movements" until the bandwagon comes along and they hop on for reasons that have little to do with the ideology of the leaders. Christianity conquered the mighty Roman empire with only a handful of converts, and it was adopted as the state religion for reasons far removed from the gospel message of Jesus and his disciples.

So-called "minority" movements have always turned out to be the most crucial and important ones in human events, for they cast the shadow of the future, while the majority look only backward or sideways.

Haircut Offer Made Good 35 Years Later

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — R. L. Burnett finally got around to using the certificate he received for a free haircut some 37 years ago.

Although a boy's haircut, which sold for 25 cents in 1932 now costs $1.50, the store honored the certificate.

John Braun Hurls Marion to Win Over Wittenberg

MARION — John Braun hurling hitless ball after the first inning and led the Marion High School baseball team to an 11-1 Central Wisconsin Conference victory over Wittenberg Tuesday.

Braun was touched for three hits and a run in the first frame and then blanked Wittenberg the rest of the way. The 6-3 senior now has an earned-run-average of 1.33 and has recorded 82 strikeouts in 42 innings this spring while walking 17.

Marion will play at Appleton's Goodland Field at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in a non-conference game against Xavier High School.

Braun also helped his own cause by slamming a 3-run home run in the first inning against Wittenberg. Sophomore Mike Daley also had a home run for Marion, a 2-run clout in the sixth inning after a double by Dan Brandenburg.

Supervisors Oppose Joint Building

Kroes, Richard W. Helf, Kaukauna; Roland Voss, Appleton; Daniel Williams, Combined Locks; Robert Weyenberg, Kimberly; Russell DeLaHunt, Kaukauna; Delmar Schmeichel, Center and Ellingson; Henry Breiting, New London; Joseph DeBruin, Town of Buchanan, and Rudolph Spreeman, Town of Greenville.

Costs of the project have drawn sharp criticism from opponents, who contend it will be higher than most estimates. Estimates have been about $2.5 million for the building and about $360,000 for the properties, plus incidental expenses.

Cost estimates for remodeling the jail facilities have been about $600,000. If county board supervisors approve the resolution Tuesday, the public property and insurance committee would proceed on securing plans and specifications for the jail remodeling and the finance and executive committees would provide for funding.

The initial state order for remodeling came a year ago and several extensions have been granted since then for completion.

However, state officials noted the county had not proceeded on hiring an architect and purchasing land for the safety building within 30 days after the March 21 extension was granted.

Paul Engle Captures Audience

Paper Executive Served Poetry at Dinner

BY RICHARD G. LYNEIS Post-Crescent City Editor

When 300 board chairmen, presidents and other top executives from the paper industry gather in one room to hear a talk, an observer would hardly expect to hear a poet reading from letters written by 17th Century American Puritans.

However, that was the scene Thursday night at North Shore Golf Club where poet Paul Engle was the main banquet speaker at the 40th annual Institute of Paper Chemistry Executives' Conference.

Things were not always so unpredictable.

Last year the speaker was Dr. George Stigler, a University of Chicago professor of American institutions, who talked about "challenges to business posed by threats to the enterprise system."

No Surprises

No surprises that year. In 1967, "The Three Gifts of Science" was the topic of the talk by Anatol Rapoport, a professor of mathematical biology at the University of Michigan.

Once again, no surprises.

There was some deviation from the expected pattern in 1966 when Harvard University's Dr. Roger Revelle chastised the American businessman for not showing enough concern when he spoke on "Science in the Poor Countries."

Some surprises, but the sort of thing businessmen were starting to become accustomed to in 1966.

Mild Bombshell

It was a mild bombshell in 1965 when liberal and controversial University of Chicago Prof. Hans Morgenthau talked on "The Five Dilemmas of American Foreign Policy." His un-American business-like attitude was totally unexpected because in 1965 Hans Morgenthau wasn't yet so well known so that he could be termed controversial.

Surprises, yes; and it became unlikely then Dr. Morgenthau would be invited for a return visit.

No surprises.

Most Unlikely

Paul Engle, Thursday night's speaker, turned out to be the most unlikely of all.

Founder of the University of Iowa's famed Creative Writing Program, he is now the much-traveled director of The Program for International Writing. He has discovered and encouraged such talent as that of novelist and short story writer Flannery O'Connor, poet W. D. Snodgrass and Korean Richard Kim whose novel, "The Martyred," won wide acclaim.

He is the only poet on The National Council on the Arts and is a member of the Advisory Council for The Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C.

Last week, Random House published Engle's collection of love poems under the title, "Embrace." He has written a dozen other books of verse, a novel, an opera libretto, stories and poems for children.

Remember Women

The title of Engle's talk, "Remember the Women," gave an impression of possible nostalgia, what with Mothers Day only three days off.

Instead, it turned out to be readings from the papers of Puritan John Winthrop to his wife, Margaret; and excerpts from letters between John and Abigail Adams when the former was off helping write the U.S. Constitution.

While Adams was in Philadelphia on this chore, Abigail instructed him in a letter, "In your laws, remember the women..." The phrase developed into the title of Engle's talk.

"We were the first country," he mused, "in which women were taught to read and write; as a result, perhaps unfortunately, we found out what women think and feel."

Witchcraft Era

Developing the attitudes of early American males toward womanhood, Engle examined the "Era of Witchcraft" in 17th Century New England and read from original journals he had studied at Salem, Mass.

He told of Martha Carrier who was accused of witchcraft and the testimony of one of her accusers. The accuser testified that Martha caused his head to "turn involuntarily" whenever she passed him on the street.

Martha's defense didn't help, Engle observed.

Her reply: "If his head was turned right off his shoulders, it would be small loss to Salem."

Engle commented, "She obviously was very dangerous. She was hung."

He told of Judge Sewall who presided at the trials of 19 women who were condemned for witchcraft.

Grievous Error

"One day," said Engle, "Judge Sewall arose in church and, in the presence of the widowers of the witches, said: 'I wish to admit my previous error.'"

Going on about Sewall, Engle once again read from his writings: "My wife has been ill. I called in the Rev. Dr. Mather to read over her. He did well, after which my wife died."

He recollected later: "God has sentenced me to a life of widowhood. I don't think I'll like it."

Not many men could or would, Engle observed.

Perfect Gift

Perhaps it was the element of a totally unexpected, or perhaps it was Engle's charming personality and humorous style and delivery, but the paper executives seemed to enjoy the Iowa-born poet more than any other banquet speaker in recent years.

This was indicated by the unusual ending to his talk.

He mentioned that his new collection of love poems, "Embrace," had just been published by Random House.

"It's the perfect gift," Engle chuckled.

Everyone applauded loudly, and the prospects are that Engle may have sold a couple hundred books.

Paint Part of Spring '69 as Dismal

Mrs. Harold Rank, Menasha, and Mrs. Henry Otto, were two of six 50-year members honored at the Wednesday evening meeting of the National Catholic Society of Foresters. ## College unrest. Riots. Strikes. War. Talks of peace.

These events, when added together, are forming a rather dismal picture of spring 1969. And yet, as the major national and international news happenings cast shadows over nations of the world, individuals continue to restore our faith in the final outcome.

Before Jackie Benington of Huntington Beach, Calif., was named America's Junior Miss at a pageant Tuesday evening at Mobile, Ala., finalists were called upon to answer a number of questions about situations in the world. One contestant reiterated her faith in those of her generation as she referred to the small percentage of teens actually involved in activities which have broadened the generation gap.

A news item from Las Vegas, Nev., telling of the marriage of Lana Turner to night club hypnotist, Dr. Ronald Dante, has to build faith in the institution of marriage. Miss Turner, who was a movie glamour queen of the '40s and Hollywood's original sweater girl, repeated wedding promises for the seventh time.

Her new husband described their wedding in the courthouse chapel as a private affair with no close friends in attendance. "I don't want to get other people involved. It's a private thing," and added, "I'm like a kid. She's something I always dreamed of."

Lawana Rhea Miracle, 18, Loyall, Ky., fabricated a tube, coffee can, plastic bottle ring to use in her project studying the effects of Vitamin C on bladder cancer. Her project was on display at the International Science Fair in North Worth Tex. Benzidine, an acid-produced chemical compound, was vaporized in the bottle and piped through to two white mice in the cans. The chemical caused bladder cancer in the mice, while two other mice, treated with the vitamin, did not contract cancer. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Bruce Johnstone, Newtonville, N.Y., sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor. Mrs. William Helmke and Mrs. Edward Regan were bridesmaids.

Dr. James Molinari, Fulton, N.Y., performed the duties of best man. David Allen, Bruce Johnstone and James Pidgeon served as ushers.

Mrs. Nixon Gives Views On the Status of Women

By FRANCES LEWINE WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon said Wednesday she thinks women have equal rights "if they want to exercise them," and she's in favor of a woman on the Supreme Court.

She made her comments to reporters while entertaining some 80 chairmen of state and city commissions on the Status of Women. They are in Washington for an annual two-day meeting.

Among their high priority topics is the need for expanding child-care centers so women can get jobs outside the home.

Mrs. Nixon was asked if she felt women have equal rights today.

"I feel women have equal rights if they want to exercise them," she replied, adding that all the women she knows who really want to get out and do things are able to.

While Mrs. Nixon was talking, a group of about 100 women pickets, representing the National Organization for Women (NOW), demonstrated outside the White House grounds.

They carried placards saying "Nixon is unfair to women" and chanted loudly "Freedom for women now" and "Promise us nothing, give us right!"

Ivy Bottini, president of the New York City chapter of NOW, relayed the word to the picketers that Mrs. Nixon had said she doesn't think there's discrimination against women and neither does the President. This whipped up chanting of "We want action now."

With a vacancy coming up on the Supreme Court, the President's wife was asked how she felt about a woman serving there. "Why not?" Mrs. Nixon said, "I think we need one."

But she added cautiously that her husband "doesn't choose anyone unless they're qualified."

To a reporter who pursued the question of a qualified woman on the court, Mrs. Nixon said, "Well, now, do you have a woman to suggest?" With that, the subject was dropped.

One of the status-of-women officials pointed out that from early school days girls are led to believe that they have only one role—that of homemaker and much potential talent is by-passed.

Mrs. Nixon dipped in to her own experiences to back up her case. She said that years ago she had a job as an economist with the government and "That actually was a man's job and they certainly treated me as an equal."

Newlyweds Offered Advice In Latest Booklet by Peales

PAWLING, N.Y. — A booklet of advice on "The Secret of a Happy Marriage" is on its way to 500,000 people around the world.

It was prepared by Dr. and Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale in response to the many questions that were asked at the time of the wedding of Julie Nixon and David Eisenhower last Dec. 22.

Dr. Peale, who officiated at the wedding, was deluged with inquiries about the kind of marital advice he gives young couples, but because it is his policy never to divulge his conversations with engaged couples, he declined to answer specific questions.

However, he and his wife, Ruth, concluded they could provide general guidelines for newlyweds based on their own 30 years of marriage, and his experience in premarital counseling.

Wide Circulation As a result, "The Secret of a Happy Marriage" was published as the 20th booklet to be issued by the Foundation for Christian Living, established nearly 30 years ago by Mrs. Peale to distribute copies of her husband's sermons.

The foundation has a mailing list of more than 500,000 people in more than 100 countries. It sends copies of sermons, booklets and other literature to them and others free of charge every month. A special mailing of the new booklet is also going to clergymen for use in marriage counseling.

The April mailing includes the 12-page white and orange-blossom colored booklet containing Dr. Peale's "Formula for Success in Marriage" and Ruth Stafford Peale's "The Adventure of Being a Wife."

Husband's Viewpoint Starting with the premise that "marriage has always had its hazards," Dr. Peale said it can be successful through real effort by both parties.

His formula? Here it is in brief: —Love — not the Hollywood variety but love "in depth."

spiritually conditioned and mature.

—Maturity — "Marriage is not for the infantile."

—Appreciation — This includes respect and esteem for one another, thoughtful courtesy and politeness, and a compliment now and then.

—Sense of unity — "A close association on every level of life... achieved by working, playing, weeping, laughing and praying together."

—Spiritual attitude — The place of religion in the home is the "real foundation that takes up the shocks, the stresses and strains, around which the storms of life beat in vain."

—Praying together — Any difference or quarrels tend to fade when "each in turn... talks aloud to the Lord in prayer" and when both join in reading the Scriptures to one another.

What does Mrs. Peale say?

"If I were invited into a young wife's kitchen to have a cup of coffee and talk about what she might do to make and keep her marriage exciting, here are some of the suggestions I would make."

—Study your man — Take pride in his strengths and achievements but analyze areas of weakness, too, and do not be disillusioned by them.

—Respect his work — "When you marry a man, you also marry his job."

—Learn the tricky and challenging art of absorption — While entitled to a husband's love and loyalty, a wife also has to be ready to absorb irritability sometimes, like a "kind of lightning rod" always ready to give support.

—Practice the art of listening — Most men need a feminine listener as a sounding board. Creative listening involves re-

2 Finesses Help Make Contract

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You've often taken two finesses in the same suit through the same opponent. For example, when you hold the A-Q-10 of a suit you try a finesse with the ten and later try another finesse with the queen. Today's hand is unusual because declarer must try two finessses in the same suit, but one against each opponent.

Reducing Routines for Hippies

Spot weight seems to find position, repeat ten times, then especially congenial housing under the waist-line, high on the side hips. All uninvited, weight congregates in balloon-shaped pads and puts up a fight against dispossession.

If you're a victim of these pests, you can give them heave-ho. But it takes will power and this evicting routine:

1 Lie back down on floor with arms extended to sides at shoulder level and legs straight up in air. Keeping legs together, perform with right leg—swinging it to left and rolling weight to left. Again work for a long, firm roll across high hips.

While awaiting improvement,
be fussy about wearing anything that binds your waistline. A tight girdle or belt would only accentuate the difficulty. It goes without saying that you would not wear a bathing suit cut out so as to bare the pads in residence. But of course not!

FREMONT — Mrs. Robert Wilz was elected president of the auxiliary of the Wolf River American Legion Post with Mrs. John Potratz elected first vice president and Mrs. Orville Aus second vice president.

Other new officers are Mrs.

Mrs. Arden Reickmann, chap-

torian, and Mrs. Milton Hagedorn with Sandra Pitt, sergeants at arms.

They will be installed June 2 at Carl's Supper Club, Read-field.
A citation from the auxiliary state department was awarded the unit here for topping their membership goals.

Mrs. Hilda Abraham and Mrs.
Jack Abraham were delegated to attend the state convention in Milwaukee July 18, 19 and 20.

slowly swing them six inches to right and then to left. Repeat ten times without stopping;
relax and repeat again.
Throughout, concentrate on rolling weight evenly and smoothly across high-hip pads. Also, keep shoulders and arms flat on floor. Action is in hips and waist.

2 On back, stretch tall and extend arms as before. Now
right leg and try to touch toe to right hand. Return to starting
